SLIPS FROM LOG AND IS DROWNED

EDWARD DUNLEAVY, LUMBER COMPANY EMPLOYEE LOST LIFE IN RIVER.

Edward Dunleavy, an employee of the Edmonton Lumber company, lost his life in the Saskatchewan river late yesterday afternoon, and his body has not yet been recovered. The accident occurred at 4.30, just opposite the company's mill, across the channel where he was engaged on the boom.

With the aid of a pole Dunleavy was pulling in a log. The pole slipped and losing his balance the man fell into the river and for a moment was lost to view. When he arose to the surface Dunleavy made frantic efforts to catch hold of a log floating down the stream. The log rolled over and over, preventing the unfortunate man securing a hold.

At last, wearied by his futile efforts to hold on to the log, Dunleavy fell back and was seen to disappear in the water. A fellow-workman rushed to the aid of the drowning man, but could not reach him from the boom and logs in that vicinity.

Realizing that quick action was necessary if any assistance was to be rendered, boats were immediately brought into requisition and rowed to the spot where Dunleavy sank. No trace of the body was found.

The drowning was reported to the city police in Strathcona, and in turn to the Mounted police.

Little is known about Dunleavy, who was apparently 35 years of age. He came to Edmonton recently and entered the employ of the lumber company just one week ago. A memorandum book found in his coat indicated that he came from Dayton, Wyoming, a little town in the northern part of Sheridan county that state. Whether he had relatives residing there had not been ascertained up to noon today.

Kansas City, Mo., July 28—Mrs. Lafayette Choate bared her arms to show certain bruises in court yesterday and recited to Judge Porterfield how her husband drove her beside his mules to a harrow and beat her with a club when she faltered and did not keep up with them. The Choates live on a Jackson county farm. Mrs. Choate said her husband became enraged and decided to hitch her at the side of one of the mules. She was compelled to help draw the harrow. Her hands were tied behind her. When she tumbled over the broken ground and fell behind the strides of the mules, her husband would strike her. She said he drove around the field four times. She was awarded the custody of her two children, 5 and 4 years old.

BENEFIT OF RECIPROCITY WILL BE LOST TO FARMERS THIS YEAR BY DISSOLUTION OF HOUSE.

Bulletin Special.

Ottawa, July 28—When the opposition obstruction was resumed in parliament today Hon. H. R. Emmerson rose to ask whether past proceedings did not warrant the early consideration of a revision of the rules for expediting public business. He created roars of Liberal laughter and wrought the obstructionists into a fury by the gravity with which he recited a story of how an African tribe subdued verbosity by decreeing that the orator should stand on one leg. "The suggestion, of course," he supplemented solemnly, "can have no reference to the gentlemen opposite, whose arguments have no leg to stand on."

There is no variety about the sittings beyond the speculation as to what the opposition obstructionists will talk about next. Today it was the turn of the Newmarket canal and they occupied the morning and forenoon. The minister of justice, against whom most of the barbs of the brigade were directed, declined to play in the obstruction game. He explained quite tersely that this was an exhaustive subject as it anteceded two general elections. Within a few days the obstructionists to public business would be brought before the bar of the people's justice It was night before reciprocity was reached.

There is now no doubt but that the opposition intends to force dissolution and prevent the farmers receiving the benefit of reciprocity for this season's crops, and hinder the west from getting the representation to which it is entitled at the next election.

She strangled the infant to death with the strings of its bonnet as it lay in a cradle.

"After killing my baby," the mother confessed, "I intended taking my own life, but I was a coward. I could see nothing but misery for the baby, so I thought it better for it to die."

Mrs. Stasich left her dead baby on a door step and later was arrested.

REVOLUTION IN HAYTI SUCCEEDS

FALL OF PRESIDENT SIMONS' GOVERNMENT APPEARS INEVITABLE.

Washington, July 29—The revolutionary crisis in Haiti, with the fall of President Simons' government apparently inevitable, caused the navy department late today to order the Scout Cruiser Salem, sister of the Chester, and one of the swiftest boats in the navy, to Port-Au-Prince, to reinforce the American warships patrolling the coast of the republic The Salem will sail from Norfolk early tomorrow and is expected to arrive at the Haitien capital Tuesday.

Official advices indicate that the capture of Port-Au-Prince by the rebels is only a question of hours. The principal anxiety here is as to the chaos that will follow the triumphs of the revolutionists.

OHIO EDITORS WILL ARRIVE IN EDMONTON ON TUESDAY EVENING—SIXTY AUTOMOBILES REQUIRED.

The party of Ohio editors touring Western Canada by special train will arrive in Edmonton over the C.N.R. at 8.30 on Tuesday evening next, and will go east on the C.T.P. at three o'clock on Wednesday afternoon.

Nowhere are there more desirable settlers for the vacant lands of the Edmonton district than the prosperous and experienced farmers from Ohio. For this reason the members of the Board of Trade are anxious to utilize to the utmost this opportunity to bring the resources and advantages of this city and district forcibly to the attention of these editorial representatives of about 150 papers, which go regularly into the homes of Ohio farmers. Arrangements for handling the party are being made by the entertainment committee of the Board of Trade, assisted by a committee representing the local press.

The party will be shown about the city early on Wednesday morning, and afterwards taken into the country to see something of the agricultural resources, weather and roads permitting, returning to the city for lunch at 12 o'clock. At least 60 automobiles will be required for this purpose. Citizens owning cars, who are willing to assist in this work, are requested to notify the secretary of the Board of Trade without delay. As it will be impossible for the committee to carry out this project without the assistance of car owners, a prompt response to this appeal is urgently requested.

Fear Effect of Increased Representation in West

CONSERVATIVE OPPOSITION URGED BY INTERESTED CORPORATIONS WILL FORCE DISSOLUTION AND APPEAL TO COUNTRY ON RECIPROCITY BEFORE REDISTRIBUTION

Ottawa, July 28.—The second week-end since Parliament reassembled finds nothing done. All week the Government has persistently pressed for progress in public business, while the Opposition has evaded the issue by obstruction. Hour after hour the Opposition obstructionists have impeded the possibilities of reciprocity and redistribution by talking, filling page after page of Hansard with newspaper clippings and other manuscripts from which they read by the hour. The announcement that the census returns are not likely to be completed before October has led them to hope that by obstructing the progress of legislation they will be able to force an appeal to the electorate before redistribution gives the great west the additional representation to which it is entitled.. During the past week the House has sat for some thirty-one hours, and of that time speakers on the Government side have only occupied some two hours. In an effort to get on, the Government has insisted on the House sitting till after midnight, but the obstructionists have so far held out. This week Sir Wilfrid Laurier has given notice that he will move for morning sittings in the hope that some progress may be made.

That the policy of obstruction adopted by the Opposition to force an election before the reciprocity issue and the redistribution bill can be dealt with has been officially determined upon by the Conservative party, has been openly declared by members in the House and by the Conservative press of the large eastern cities, where the interests engaged in fighting reciprocity fear the additional western vote which would be entitled to record itself under redistribution. Speaking in Parliament on Thursday night, Mr. G. H. Cowan, Opposition member for Vancouver, alluded to the obstruction tactics of his party as an effort to "smoke" the Government out into an immediate appeal to the country. "If we could smoke them out of this burrow," he declared, as reported in Hansard (page 10,057) "if we could convince them that this chamber is not a gopher hole, that their duty lies not in this chamber but before the people of Canada, that the people are waiting to give them exactly the reception they deserve, if we could do this, we would feel that we had served our country well." On the same day, Mr. J. D. Taylor devoted some four hours of time and forty-five columns of Hansard to asking for information concerning the report of Mr. Justice Murphy on the administration of the Chinese immigration act, an inquiry that Sir Wilfrid Laurier reminded him could have been made and answered in ten minutes, had the purpose not been, as the Prime Minister aptly expressed it, "not so much for the purpose of obtaining information, as for the purpose of killing time and obstructing the business of the House." It is significant, in view of Mr. Borden's declarations in the west, that his party was not guilty of obstruction, to note that in the same discussion the Opposition leader championed Mr. Taylor on his occupation of so much time, commending the re-reading of the evidence taken and published months before.

The newspaper exponents of the anti-reciprocity interests in the cities of Montreal and Toronto are making no secret of their satisfaction over the assurance that the obstructive tactics of the Opposition will force an appeal to the people before the reciprocity and redistribution issues can be dealt with.. The Montreal Gazette of July 21st, exultingly declares that "dissolution is the only course open to Sir Wilfrid Laurier," and adds with a tone of authority: "Every man is determined to stand by Mr. Borden in opposition to the passage of the agreement. . . . The climax will come with a rush and the country be plunged into the whirlpool of the elections." The Toronto News, which is advertising itself in financial circles in Toronto as the "chef exponent" of Mr. Borden in his anti-reciprocity campaign, in its issue of the same date, openly commends the Opposition's plan of obstruction. It says: "There is no reason whatever why Conservatives should be ashamed of obstructing, or should be apologetic about it. The rules of Parliament permit obstruction; it has been known for years that they permit it. . . . It is a sharp and heavy weapon. . . . But this can be said every time that R. L. Borden has used it the result has justified him. . . . Obstruction is a perfectly legitimate course when the occasion is sufficiently momentous."

Country Appreciates Position.

The position of the two parties is consequently clearly before the country. Both have shown their hands in the Parliamentary battle of the past week. The Liberals, under Sir Wilfrid Laurier, intend to make every effort to advance public business to ratify the reciprocity arrangement and to secure for the country the redistribution to which it is entitled under the recent census. The Opposition, under Mr. R. L. Borden, has adopted the policy of obstruction with the purpose of forcing an appeal to the electors before either reciprocity or redistribution can be dealt with. The obstructionists have not attempted anything but time-killing. Throughout the whole week they have submitted no motion or suggestion beyond an indefinite amendment on the first day of the sitting calling for recognition in "some substantial manner" for the Fenian veterans of 1867, thereby precipitating an all-day discussion of a subject determined by the government of Sir John A. Macdonald, some forty odd years ago. With the aid of late night sittings and calling the House in the morning, the Government is endeavoring to surmount the obstruction and secure the passing of a redistribution bill at the conclusion of the census, which will give to all parts of the country the representation to which they are entitled at the next election Whether the Government will be able to accomplish its purpose, or whether the obstructive practices of the Opposition will be successful in so tying up the transaction of public business as to force an election on the people under the old census remains to be seen. The situation is unique in political annals and involves the problem off minority rule in Parliament and the country.

OLYMPIC GAMES IN STOCKHOLM IN 1912

On receipt of the letter Mr. Sullivan issued an appeal for $50,000 to defray the expenses of the American team.

HE STOPPED STREET CAR WITH SHOT GUN

Chicago Man Used This Method of Inducing Motorman to Stop Car—Was Arrested and Told Judge About It.

Chicago, Ills., July 29.—Desperation drove John Onnicky to stop a street car with a shot gun.

"I tried to stop one in every other way," he told Judge Scully, in the Municipal Court yesterday, "and the cars kept right on going. I waited and shouted and stood on the track, but they seemed to be thinking more about their schedules than me. I happened to have a shot gun with me, so finally pointed it at a motorman."

"Did he stop?" inquired the judge.

"You bet he did. He did not start up till I got on, either."

Judge Skully continues the case today. Onnicky was arrested after he got on the car.

IDEA IS MERELY TO GET IT TALKED ABOUT

Judges Sitting on St. Peter Indian Reserve Inquiry Appreciate Effort of Counsel for the Complaining Indians to Have Irrelevant Matter Made Public.

Selkirk, Man., July 28—Compared to previous sittings, today's proceedings of the St. Peter's Indian reserve commission were relatively tame and uneventful. A considerable portion of the day was taken up with the submission of documents by Mr. Whitla and Mr. Fullerton, counsel respectively for the commission and the Indians. The production of these documents gave rise to sharp differences of opinion between the above named. Counsel for the purchasers of the Indian lands, Mr. Andrews, objected to several of the documents going in as evidence, and in every case his objections were sustained by the judges. The latter made it clear that the documents went in for what they were worth and not as evidence.

In particular an altercation arose over a letter written by J. O. Lewis, former Indian agent at Selkirk, to the Indian department at Ottawa. Mr. Andrews contended that it would be very unfair to read the letter as it contained reflections upon certain individuals. Judge Myers objected promptly to the letter being read openly, and asked Mr. Fullerton if his object was to get the letter into the newspapers or "talked about." Finally the letter was allowed to be submitted "for what it is worth," as Judge Locke put it.

One of the features of the day was the refusal of Ernest Reyner, Selkirk, one of the purchasers of the Indian lands, to be sworn or to give evidence until the question of the commission's validity was settled. This attitude was taken by Mr. Reyner on the advice of Mr. Andrews. The question of the commission's jurisdiction was to have been argued tomorrow morning in the Winnipeg court house, but it has been deferred. In all probability the question will be argued during the course of the coming week.

The only Indian examined today was Councillor W. H. Harper. Harper denied having received any irregular money or other considerations in return for having voted for the surrender. They came to him for advice and he had always told them to do as they liked. Harper mentioned that one of the chief objectors to the government retaining control of the land granted to the Indians was William Asham, the Indian chiefly responsible for the investigation. Among other things Harper contended that the question of surrender was fully discussed and explained before the vote was taken.

Bad Fire at Longue Pointe.

Montreal, July 29.—About twenty wooden frame houses were burned to the ground at Longue Point this morning and some hundred people are rendered homeless as a result. The blaze started in the old Chevalier Hotel, just opposite the Longue Point Asylum, an explosion of gasoline being the direct cause. The hotel was soon a mass of flame, and with a heavy gale of wind blowing the fire rapidly razed the neighboring houses. The fire brigade of Longue Pointe could do nothing with the flames.

NEWS OF STRATHCONA

NOTICE TO BULLETIN SUBSCRIBERS.

Mr. J. D. Hutton, of Hutton's Book Store, has been appointed agent in Strathcona for the Daily Bulletin. Any new subscriptions or complaints regarding delivery, etc., will be attended to by him.

LOCALS.

A shower was given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. G. A. McKee to Miss Grace Low, late teacher in Queen Alexandra school, whose marriage takes place on next Tuesday to R. Howard Dobson. A large number of friends of the popular bride-to-be were present and she received many useful gifts.

Rev. J. C. Bowen left on Thursday night by way of Calgary on return to Winnipeg.

The road between Edmonton and Strathcona is at present in an almost impassable state for heavy loads and hardly a day passes without a break down. Under present conditions it is almost impossible to make much improvement in this thoroughfare.

Beginning next Sunday the street cars will run between Edmonton and Strathcona on a twenty minute service all day instead of a forty minute service in the forenoon. This will be of great benefit to those travelling in the forenoon.

A Royal Black Preceptory meeting will be held in the Orange Hall on Thursday, August 3rd. There will be an election of officers.

The excursions on the steamer City of Edmonton have been stopped until further notice.

Three of Strathcona's undergraduates at the University of Alberta, W. Rogers, W. Reid and J. Doze, are back in the city this week for visits of brief duration. Wm. Rogers has returned from Winnipeg, where he was employed with the Dominion Bridge Co.

Rev. J. R. Robertson, B.A., B.D., will conduct the services in Knox church next Sunday, both morning and evening, for the last time during his present visit to Strathcona. Mr. Robertson, who has been taking duty for the pastor, Rev J. M. Millar, during the month of July, will leave Monday for the coast, spending a short time en route with the Alpine Club, who are camping at Sherbrooke Lake, and also visiting Revelstoke. Mr. Robertson is an enthusiastic mountain climber, a chartered member of the Alpine Club, and has scaled many of the highest peaks of the Rockies.

The work of removing the University furnishings from the Strathcona Collegiate Institute, where classes have been held for the past three years, is now in progress and Dr. Tory will open his office in the new quarters by the first of next week. Everything will be in readiness for the opening in the new buildings in the course of the next two months.

NEW G. T. P. PUBLICATION

A new publication has just been issued by the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway in connection with a territory that is practically unknown. This publication deals with Plateau and Valley lands in Central British Columbia, and which will be reached by the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, west of Fort George and East of Hazelton, British Columbia.

The descriptive matter was secured with much difficulty by an exploration party sent out last year who discovered the possibilities of the marvellously rich and climate-favored land referred to, and the statements made are based strictly on these researches. Facts have also been secured and incorporated in this publication from Government Agents' reports and equally reliable resources, and every care has been taken in the compilation of the text which will be found correct in all statements.

The publication deals with the markets, mineral production, climate, settlement, soil and class of land, temperature, altitude, pre-emption, timber lands, homesteads, etc., and also gives full particulars as to how to secure Government land, taxation, education social conditions, and advice to emigrants.

A new and very interesting map accompanies the book, which is profusely illustrated and most interesting in every particular. The illustrations are made from direct photographs taken by a specially equipped party sent out by the Grand Trunk system last year.

Anyone desiring a copy of this publication may obtain same without cost by applying to Mr. W. J. Quinlan, district passenger agent, Grand Trunk Railway, 260 Portage Avenue, Winnipeg, Manitoba.

MUCH DEMAND FOR FARM HANDS

The season of the year is rapidly rolling around to the point where the annual influx of farm buyers may be expected to commence, from various portions of the United States and Eastern Canada. That some of the local realty offices are already beginning to feel the first effect of this movement was the statement of Ald. Tipton, of the firm of J. G. Tipton and Sons. "We have had more enquiries within the past two weeks regarding farm lands than we have had for the past two years," said Ald. Tipton. "These prospective buyers write or come from all parts of the country, and the majority are investors who want to secure first class land where they can immediately commence farming operations."

While the season for the heavy rush of homesteaders is passing, the time of year is just approaching when the monied class of farmers begin to put in an appearance. Last year the demand for improved farms in the Strathcona district, was very heavy during the autumn and early winter and the indications now point to a far heavier demand this season. Not only have land values increased materially in close proximity to the city within the past few months, but for a considerable distance out in the surrounding districts the prices for good farms have advanced to a marked extent.

WETASKIWIN BEAT PONOKA.

Fast Game of Baseball in Wetaskiwin Friday.

Wetaskiwin, Alta., July 29.—The snappiest game of ball played on the Wetaskiwin diamond this season, in the Central Alberta League, was witnessed tonight, when Wetaskiwin trimmed Ponoka, the leaders of the league, by 7-2. It was featured by double plays and errors. Nelson was let out of a bad hole in the eighth, when, with the bases full, Johnson completed a difficult catch and double. The prettiest catch of the season was made by Spersman, when he jumped in the air and pulled the sphere down with one hand. A. Mullins, Ponoka, was credited with a three-bagger. Lynch, Gouchee, Nelson and Spersman each had two-baggers. The batteries—Ponoka: Allen and Mullins; Wetaskiwin: Nelson and Gouchee.

BUSINESS OUTLOOK IS VERY FAVORABLE

Retailers Are Ordering Large Supplies of Fall and Winter Goods—Business Quiet in Calgary and Edmonton—Wholesalers Report Satisfactory Business.

Winnipeg, July 28—The Commercial in its weekly review of the business situation will say tomorrow: "There is a decided improvement in the fall trade outlook. Thousands of harvest hands are already arriving for the work on the western farms, and the grain is ready for the reaper in some sections. Having reached this stage, merchants are ordering more liberally for fall and winter, and the cautiousness reported in previous issues is not so pronounced. There is no extravagance, however, and business generally is on a very solid, healthy basis. In last week's review the Commercial mentioned that country merchants were taking no chances on some last-moment climatic damage causing a setback in some district or other, but now, with the cutting of grain started at some points, the retail dealers are awakening to the necessity of making all haste to prepare for the future demand.

Wholesale Business Satisfactory.

"The volume of business at the wholesalers during July has been quite satisfactory, being much larger in the aggregate than in the corresponding month of last year, or any previous year. The loaning business in the country is seasonably quiet this month. This is usually the quiet season in the west in that respect. Loan companies explain that the farmers hold off in July and August until they have a good idea of the actual grain output before arranging to undertake more liberties in extensions or improvements. If the crop is large enough to enable them to liquidate their local debts and general expenses they borrow money to buy more land or to make improvements on present holdings. The demand for loans in the cities is active.

Dun's Trade Review.

New York, July 28—Satisfactory conditions continue to be reported in the despatches received by Dun's Review from branch offices of R. G. Dun & Co., in the leading trade centers of the Dominion of Canada. Good rains and plenty of sunshine in many sections having been of marked benefit to the crops. Montreal reports that the general wholesale trade shows little change, but groceries are moving in fair volume with sugars, canned fruits and vegetables tending higher. Hides are steady at last week's advance and the tanners are trying to obtain higher prices, but the boot and shoe manufacturers are indifferent buyers and there is not the demand for leather usual at this season. Cheese exports continue liberal, shipments to date amounting to over 700,000 boxes, and there is some revival in exports of butter.

At Quebec and Toronto.

The wholesale trade at Quebec continues in satisfactory volume for this time of year, staple merchandise being in fair retail demand and conditions in the country districts being improved by more favorable weather.

Toronto reports continued activity in wholesale. A fairly good trade is reported by the jobbers of dry goods with indications of lower prices for cottons. In hardware and metals there is a satisfactory movement and groceries are active, with staples very firm in prices. Leather is in good demand and firm, while hides are unchanged.

Building is active at Hamilton and lumber is in strong request. The volume of general trade is well maintained, although some quietness is noted in the country districts where the high winds have damaged the fruit crop. Both wholesale and retail business holds up well and indications point to a steady and profitable fall trade.

In the Far West.

In the far west and northwest crop reports continue favorable. Winnipeg notes satisfactory conditions in practically all lines, and the volume of trade well up to that of a year ago.

At Regina there is a steady demand for all kinds of merchandise at wholesale, and active preparations are being made for the Dominion exhibition next week. Calgary reports that labor troubles have resulted in a considerable loss of business, but the splendid crop conditions that prevail throughout that part of the province it is believed will insure a good fall trade.

Business at Edmonton is a little quiet, but there is an increase in building operations and improvement is generally looked for in the near future.

Gross earnings of all Canadian railroads reporting to date for three weeks of July show an increase as compared with the corresponding period last year of 11.9 per cent. Commercial failures in the Dominion during the past week numbered 23, as compared with 25 last week and 32 the same week a year ago.

THE FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL MARKETS

EDMONTON MARKETS.

Edmonton, July 29—Local prices are subject at present to rapid fluctuations and today's lists are not to be considered valid except in a very general way for more than a day or two. The arrival of local potatoes eased the situation as far as the market is concerned, but until roads improve there will be no marked improvement in the price. Farmers, who came in today said that the trip would not be worth repeating for the price of many sacks. Those potatoes which have arrived are small and tend to be scabby, but the conditions may be merely local. Old pothtoes are taking advantage of the situation to remain on their lofty pinnacle but will have to come down before many moons have passed.

Despite muddy roads, new hay is plentiful, the quality excellent. Timothy occupies the field almost to the exclusion of the others. Red-top is also seen with here and there a load of slough hay, but the latter is hardly looked at when the others of better feeding qualities are to be obtained. The change in the market hours has yet not gone into effect; hence that cannot be assigned as the reason for the extreme popularity of the First street site.

Oats seemed to have passed their halcyon days and no longer command the price they did during the blockade of wet weather. Thirty-five cents is about as much as any farmer dare ask.

New vegetables are becoming common and prices are moderating somewhat. For local cabbage 75 cents per dozen is paid though retailers ask 7c a pound. Even the tooth-some cauliflower can be purchased for prices within the reach of all, and no doubt the catalogue of garden produce will shortly be complete.

Chicago Grain Markets.

Chicago, July 28.—Assertions that black rust in the wheat fields of the Dakotas and Minnesota had gnawed down the probable yield there to barely 100,000,000 bushels brought about today a substantial advance in the market. Latest trades were 1 1-8 to 1 1-2 higher than last night. The rise here in the cost of wheat though stiff, did not more than half equal the added charges imposed at centres much nearer to the afflicted region. Minneapolis for example put the price level up an even 3c a bushel. Opinions were freely made that the rust was going north as far as it could travel and had already infected two whole counties bordering the Dakota side of the Canadian line. The section specified is still three weeks from harvest. Saskatchewan in British territory was officially acknowledged to be stricken but it was stated not yet to an alarming extent. One South Dakota report said that the commonwealth would not ship out a pound of wheat and would have to be supplied with seed next spring. Simultaneously there was disquieting news regarding the Morocco crisis, but that and all other influences went into the back ground to give place to the tidings of any sort regarding black rust.

Winnipeg Grain Markets.

Winnipeg, July 28. — The market made a sensational jump today, Minneapolis leading. Talks of black rust in the Northwestern States of America have been on the markets for some time past, but the trade did not take much notice of it for some time. Today, however, the bull influence at Minneapolis set the ball rolling, and prices soared rapidly for the future months. The situation was aggravated very lorgely by the unfavorable political situation in Europe.

Winnipeg July opened at 96 3-8c and rose to 96 1-2, but closed at 96 1-4 or 1-4c advance after a range of 3-8. October opened strong at 92 3-4c, and rose from the start till it reached the 93 7-8 point, when a little fluctuation took place. It got away again and rose to 94 1-4c, finally closing at 93 7-8c, or 1 1-4c higher. December behaved in the same manner, opening at 92 1-4c, and finally closing at 93 1-8, or 1 3-8 higher. Oats also moved higher in sympathy with Chicago prices, and July closed 1-8c higher, October and December 1-2c higher.

In the American options Minneapolis, who were the leaders in the sharp but steady advance, were up in all months. July advanced 2 3-4c after a range of 1 7-8c, closing at 99 3-8. September advanced 2 7-8 cents split, closing at 99 1-2 split, and December no less than 3 cents split, closing at 100 3-4 split asked.

Chicago was, of course, not so much affected by the scare, July closing at 87 7-8, or 1 1-8c higher, September at 90 1-4c, or 1 1-2c higher, and December at 94, or 1 1-2c higher also. The map of the West showed moderate temperatures had fallen with scattered showers.

Drowning at Canadian Soo.

Sault Ste Marie, Mich., July 28. —While attempting to turn a launch around in the river last night, Lorne Lambert, of Sault Ste Marie, Ontario, fell out of the boat and was drowned. A friend, standing on a dock a few feet distant, ran for a line but returned to find Lambert sunk from view. He leaves a widow and two small children.

Rogers May Run in Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, July 28—It is rumored here that Hon. Robert Rogers, minister of public works for Manitoba, will contest Winnipeg at next Federal elections and that Alex Haggart, K.C., the present member will be given the job of police magistrate as compensation for his withdrawal.

IS MUCH SUFFERING FROM RECENT FIRES

Twenty-Nine Families Burned Out in Two Townships and Lost Everything—Two Hundred People in Urgent Need of Assistance.

North Bay, July 28—Late advices received from the townships of Hanmer and Capereol, north of Sudbury, reveal distressing conditions among the settlers there. Twenty-nine families were burned out in the recent fires and lost everything.

The families are all large and mostly French-Canadians. Supplies have been sent in from Sudbury, but the people are destitute and in urgent need of assistance, as the women are sleeping on bare boards, with only one blanket to cover them.

About two hundred human beings are in need of immediate assistance and the condition of these settlers is pitable as supplies furnished thus far do not begin to meet pressing needs.

CANADA RETAINS CONTROL OF NAVY

TEXT OF AGREEMENT REACHED BETWEEN DOMINIONS AND BRITISH ADMIRALTY.

Ottawa, July 28—The full details of the agreement reached between representatives of Canada and Australia and the British Admiralty on naval defence were tabled in the House today. The clauses which form the basis of the agreement are as follows:

The Detailed Report.

The detailed report tabled by Sir Wilfrid Laurier is as follows:

1. The naval services and forces of the Dominions of Canada and Australia will be exclusively under the control of their respective governments.

2. Training and discipline of the naval forces of the dominions will be generally uniform, officers and men of said forces to be interchangeable with those under control of British admiralty.

3. Ships of each dominion naval force will hoist at the stern the white ensign as the symbol of the authority of the crown, and at the jack staff the distinctive flag of the dominion.

4. The Canadian and the Australian governments will have their own naval stations as agreed upon from time to time.

5. In the event of the Canadian or Australian governments desiring to send ships to a part of the British Empire outside of their own respective stations, they will notify the British Admiralty.

Will Obtain Concurrence.

6. In the event of Canadian or Australian governments desiring to send ships to a foreign port, they will obtain concurrence of the Imperial government in order that the necessary arrangements with the foreign office may be made as in the case of the ships of the British fleet, in such time and manner as is usual between the British Admiralty and foreign office.

7. While ships of dominions are at a foreign port a report of their proceedings will be forwarded by the officer in command to the commander-in-chief of the station or to the British Armiralty. The officer in command of a Dominion ship, so long as he remains in a foreign port will obey any instructions he may receive from the government of the United Kingdom as to the conduct of any international matters that may arise, the Dominion government being informed.

8. Commanding officer of a Dominion ship having to put into a foregn port within previous arrangements on account of stress of weather, danger, or any unforeseen emergency will report his arrival and reason for calling to the commander-in-chief of the station, or to the admiralty and will obey so long as he remains in the foreign port any instructions he may receive from the government of the United Kingdom as to his relations with the authorities, the Dominion government being informed.

Senior Officer Commands.

9. When a ship of the British admiralty meets a ship of the Dominion, the senior officer will have the right of command in matters of ceremony or international intercourse, or where united action is agreed upon, but will have no power to direct the movements of ships of other service unless the ships are ordered to co-operate by mutual agreement.

10. In foreign ports the senior officer will take command but not so as to interfere with the orders that the junior may have received from his own government.

11. When a court martial has to be ordered by a Dominion and a sufficient number of officers are not available in the Dominion service at the time the British Admiralty, if requested, will make necessary arrangements to enable a court to be formed. Provision will be made by order of His Majesty in council and the Dominion government to define the conditions under which officers of the different services are to sit on the joint court martials.

12. The British Admiralty undertakes to lend to the Dominions during the period of development of their services under conditions to be agreed upon, such flag and other officers and men as may be needed. In their selection the preference will be given to officers and men coming from or connected with the Dominion, but they should all be volunteers to service.

13. The service of officers of the British fleet in the Dominion naval forces or officers of these forces in the British fleet will count in all respects for promotion, pay, retirement, etc., as service in their respective forces.

How Seniority Determined.

14. In order to determine all questions of seniority that may arise the names of all officers will be shown in the naval list and their seniority determined by the date of their commission, whichever is earlier, in British, Canadian or Australian services.

15. It is desirable in the interest of efficiency and co-operation that arrangements should be made from time to time between the British admiralty and the Dominions for ships of the Dominions to take part in fleet exercises, or for any other joint training considered necessary under the senior naval officer. While so employed, the ships will be under command of that officer who would not, however, interfere in the internal economy of ships of another service further than absolutely necessary.

16. In time of war when the naval service of a Dominion or any part thereof has been put at the disposal of the Imperial government by the Dominion authorities the ships will form an integral part of the British fleet and will remain under the control of the British admiralty during the continuance of the war.

17. The Dominions having applied to their naval forces the King's regulations, the admiralty instructions and naval discipline act, the British admiralty and the Dominion governments will communicate to each other any changes which they propose to make in those regulations or that act.

The Canadian Atlantic naval station will include the waters north of 30 degrees, north latitude, and west of meridian of 40 degrees west longitude. The Canadian Pacific Naval station will include the waters north of 30 degrees north latitude and east of the meridian of 180 degrees longitude.

Student Stole Microscope.

Kingston, Ont., July 28.—B. C. Davis, a Queen's medical student, pleaded guilty in the police court this morning to a charge of stealing two microscopes from the college last April, and was allowed to go on suspended sentence. He was brought back to Kingston from Saskatchewan by the college authorities.

VETO BILL CRISIS IS PASSING OVER

THE "NO SURRENDER" MOVEMENT OF INSURGENTS IS DYING OF RIDICULE.

London, July 28—A solution of the veto bill crisis without the creation of peers may be predicted tonight with tolerable certainty. Premier Asquith had a final interview today with King George, who goes with Queen Mary tomorrow to Cowes for the week end.

The "no surrender" movement is dying of ridicule, its leaders not daring to publish the names of its alleged adherents. Lord Lansdowne, leader of the opposition on the other hand, has received writen pledges of support from more than 300 peers in his efforts to save the bill.

The following is expected to be the course designed on the veto bill: The House of Commons Wednesday will reject the House of Lords amendments, while intimation will be conveyed to Premier Asquith that Lord St. Aldwyn will take sufficient Unionist peers into the government lobby, if the Halsburyites challenge a division, to offset them.

It is believed however that even this procedure will not be necessary as it is very doubtful whether Lord Halsbury's following is equal in number to the Liberal peers.

C.P.R. TO SHORTEN ITS SECTIONS

Will Be Reduced From Nine Miles to Six or Seven—This Will Greatly Lighten Work of Section Men—May Affect Entire Road

Ottawa, July 28—The principal grievance existing between maintenance of ways employees of the C.P.R. and the company in the recent difficulty between the two, which it was feared at one time would result in a strike, has now been removed by the C.P.R. voluntarily shortening its sections. The change affects the Ottawa division in common with the whole eastern division at least, and may affect the whole road.

Men are now at work on the local division and all along the route making preliminary arrangements for the shortening up of the sections. From an average length of nine miles, they will be again reduced to six or seven miles, while the shortness of the length of the sections might seem at first sight a purely technical matter, it is really one that closely affects the amount of work the maintenance of way men have to do inasmuch as in future a section gang usually consisting of a foreman and three others will have to look after only six instead of nine miles of track.

The lengthening to nine miles was tried some time ago by the C.P.R. and has been a matter of constant agitation ever since.

MEMBERS LEAVE ON RETURN HOME

THE DISSOLUTION IS EXPECTED NEXT WEDNESDAY OR THURSDAY.

Ottawa, July 28—There is practically no change in political situation and indications still point to a dissolution of the House next week, either on Wednesday or Thursday. Some of the members who left for their homes tonight will not come back to take part in the proceedings of this parliament and will return to Ottawa as members again only by the grace of their constituents. All signs indicate that there will be no members of parliament in Canada a week hence and that the government machinery will be confined to His Excellency and his advisers.

Owing to improbability of any supply being voted the government will have to provide money to carry on the country's business by the issue of Governor-General's warrants. As it will be cossiderable over two months from the date of adjournment until the new parliament will meet, large sums of money will be raised in this way. The general rule is that after dissolution the Government can raise money to pay salaries or to continue any work already started. In the department of railways for instance most of the salaries have been voted in full but for great undertakings as the National Transcontinental railway and other public works large and small money will be raised by the issue of warrants.

Reciprocity Again Monday.

Reciprocity will again be the government program on Monday but if it is definitely decided to dissolve next week, a part of one day at least will be given over to the discussion of the report on the Imperial conference and naval defence conference.

The Oliver charges will be proceeded with by a special committee on Tuesday with all the essential witnesses present. With continuous sittings it is believed that all the evidence can be heard in a couple of days.

Most of the morning and afternoon sittings of the Commons was taken up with the discussion of a resolution moved by Capt. Thos. Wallace, (Center York, condemning the government for its expenditure of money on the Newmarket canal. A division was taken shortly before six o'clock, the motion being rejected by a vote of 79 to 45., a government majority of 34.

Capt. Wallace in making his attack on the government put on record the report of E. J. Walsh, a former engineer of the railways and canals department, condemning the expendituress.

Nothing to do With Work.

Sir Alan Aylesworth said that he had nothing whatever to do with the construction of the canal. It was built before his day in the house and had been justified by the electors of North York at two general elections. Major Curris argued that the object of the construction of the canal was to corrupt the riding.

Hon. Mr. Fielding said that construction had been commenced at the request of a large deputation which included many Conservatives.

The debate was continued by E. B. Osler, W. B. Staples, Arthur Meighen, Glen Campbell and W. R. Smith. The western members complained that Manitoba was not getting its share of the appropriations for public works.

After division the anti-reciprocity talk was resumed, Major Beatie (London) and J. Madden of (Cape Breton) being the speakers.

Winnipeg Police Make Arrests.

Winnipeg, July 28—The police have under arrest here five men as the nucleus of a gang of alleged railway thieves whose operations have continued over a period of ten months. More arrests are promised.

Ottawa Population 84,561.

Ottawa, July 28—It is stated that the population of Ottawa ascertained by the census is 84,561 as compared with 57,640 ten years ago. There are some additions to be made but the figures will not be changed much.

RECIPROCITY OR RESTRICTION.

In the early summer, while the people of the Southern States are enjoying fresh vegetables and farm products, the Canadian people are doing without them—all save the few fortunate ones who can pay fabulous prices for them. Who benefits by the deprivation? Not the Canadian farmer, for he does not and cannot produce such things at that time of year. Here and there perhaps the owner of a greenhouse makes a few more dollars than he would otherwise make. But is that sufficient public reason for denying the great mass of the people—who cannot afford to pay green-house prices—the chance to live better?

TOO MUCH INVESTIGATING.

The Lethbridge News thinks the Government should be thought less of because investigations into the conduct of public affairs have been started when evidence of mis-conduct appeared, or when allegations of such were made by the Opposition. The Government, the News thinks, should be gifted with the power of mind reading, and general omniscience as to the doings of officials, some if them hundreds of miles from Ottawa.

It is true that when the friends of the News were in power at Ottawa investigations were not held so frequently. But goodness knows it was not because the need of them was not apparent, nor because they were not asked for. And nobody but the News has been found yet who thought the better of the Government for not granting them when the need was apparent and the demand was made.

NOT ANXIOUS FOR MORE WESTERN MEMBERS.

The Montreal Star proffers this interesting bit of enlightenment to the people of the West:—

> The weakness of the West at this moment is that the Government believe that it is bound to vote for them anyway because of Reciprocity while the Opposition do not see why they should try to get more votes for a section which advertises its determination to use them to keep the Opposition where it is.

The admission in the concluding clause is illuminating. The Star is numbered among the most ardent opponents of reciprocity, and may be taken as conversant with the facts when it says in effect that the Opposition would rather have an election before redistribution because the more western members there are in the House the more supporters of reciprocity there will be.

That is in accord with a surmise which has been somewhat prevalent in this part of the country. It is also strictly in accord with what might be expected to be Mr. Borden's conclusion from his trip through the West. Unless he went through this country in a trance he must have known when his trip ended that the fewer the members who went down from the prairies the better his chances of defeating reciprocity. And it was to be supposed that, knowing this, he would not be particularly concerned about having the voting put off until the western contingent was enlarged. It is well to have it on good authority that this conclusion is correct.

AN EXPLODED ARGUMENT.

The Red Deer News warns the farmers that "If reciprocity passes, "not only will our market be thrown "open to the United States for natural "products but thirteen other countries "will have a free access to our markets." The News does not keep as well posted on modern history as its name would suggest. If it did it would know that the fears it entertains are groundless and that what it asserts as a fact is not a fact. At the recent Imperial conference Sir Edward Grey undertook to secure a revision of the trade treaties which secure to these countries "favored nation" treatment in the markets of the British Oversea Dominions. These treaties were made by Great Britain years ago, and the concessions granted were granted without the consent of the Dominions. Their revision means that hereafter goods from such countries can enter Canada only under arrangements made by their governments with that of the Dominion. This revision, it may be added, was undertaken by Sir Edward Grey at the request of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. It is improbable that the process of revising all these treaties has yet been completed, but it is under way, with the full and willing assurance of the British government that it will be completed as speedily as practicable. The argument advanced by the News therefore no longer holds. Under the treaties as now being revised goods from the countries named or from any country except the United States will not be entitled to admission to Canada in virtue of the reciprocity agreement.

WAR LIABLE.

Well-intentioned people in this and other countries try to persuade themselves and others that war between two powerful and "Christian" nations is now a thing almost, if not quite, impossible. It would be time for a world jubilee if that notion would stand the test of trial. How weak a foundation there is for it is made apparent by the presently strained relations between France and Great Britain on the one side and Germany on the other. A leading German newspaper declared that when Premier Asquith rose to address the British House of Commons on Thursday he held peace and war in his hands—the peace and war of the world, it may be added. Considering the temper of the two peoples there can be no manner of doubt that this judgment is correct, and that a statement from the mouthpiece of one people couched in anything but offenceless language would have precipitated a storm such as Europe has not seen for a century, and such as men of sense and feeling everywhere must hope the world will not see again, at this or any time. But if this German paper's judgment is correct it serves to show precisely how little stands between the highest civilization and the worst that barbarism has been able to invent. Fundamentally the trouble grows out of the lack of confidence of one nation in another. A London paper illustrates this in a sentence. Germany, it says, has been accused of prowling around the Moroccan coast with intention to seize a port and establish there a naval base. It adds, "Well, she has been "prowling around the Moroccan coast, "and if her intentions are honest why "are they kept secret?" That question seems to express very fully the suspicion which causes Britain to object to Germany's behaviour in Morocco; and no doubt the same suspicion is the mainspring of France's protest also. Could these nations be confident that Germany desired nothing more than the protection of German interests in Morocco there would be no possibility of war. Were they certain that Germany had no more menacing intention than that of peopling a part of North Africa with her surplus sons and daughters it is unlikely that these Powers, each with enormous and sparsely settled colonies, would object. But Britain and France alike fear that the German idea is not to force a settlement of claims, or to colonize a desert, but to establish on the North African coast a powerful fortress and naval base; and that from this base a German fleet would some day issue to block the lines of traffic across the Atlantic ocean. That done, Britain and France could be starved into submission. Naturally therefore these nations set more consequence on keeping Germany out of Morocco than they would otherwise put upon the possession of all Northern Africa. To allow her to become established there would be to put their national lives largely in her keeping, and they will fight rather than do that. This was the substance of Premier Asquith's statement on Thursday. Hard as it is to believe, we are just around the corner from an outbreak whose influence and outcome no man can foresee. Whether it is to be peace or chaos depends on whether Germany gives satisfactory assurance of her intentions in Morocco.

MINERS SHOULD ACCEPT.

The strike should be settled at once. The award of the majority of the conciliation board has been accepted by the operators, who are prepared to utilize it as a basis of drawing up a new agreement with the miners, and, as the award was also endorsed by the representative gathering of business men at Macleod yesterday, it is evident that public opinion believes that its acceptance is the only possible way to end the prolonged struggle, which if allowed to continue, is going to put Western Canada in desperate straits this winter.

The strike must be settled and the mines must commence operating at once if the danger of a fuel famine is to be averted. The majority report represents the view of the only independent representative on the board, and the fact that it is not approved by either the operators or miners, should prove that the report is not biased. The operators are prepared to accept it solely to avoid the serious situation now facing the country. The miners, if they follow the same course, will strengthen themselves greatly in public opinion. If they persist in keeping up the fight at the present time, when the prospect of a fuel famine is staring the people in the face, they will lose the sympathy of a host of people.

The public is not going into any technical consideration of the report. All that it knows is that the award was signed by the representative of the public on the board and that it does not suit either side though one party is prepared to accept it to end the trouble and enable coal mining to be resumed.

It is the commencement of operations that the public desire and public sympathy is bound to be with the party willing to accept the award. If the miners forego their claims and accept the award, too, they will gain a very strong place in public regard.

CANNOT BE RELIED UPON.

Winnipeg Free Press—One weak point in the position of the British government and its proposed creation of 500 new peers to pass the Veto Bill is that when the new peers are created no one can predict how they would vote. As an instance at the time of the Gladstone Home Rule Bill it was discovered by an analysis of the vote that the Bill was defeated by a majority of 2 in the Lords, counting all the votes in favour of it on the one side, and on the other counting only the votes of peers made by Mr. Gladstone himself. A similar instance was afforded on the fifth of the present month when Lord Lansdowne's amendment to the Veto Bill was carried in the Lords. Including the members of the Government who are peers, only 16 voted for the Bill. The present Liberal Government have, however, been responsible for the creation of 49 peerages excluding the last list of Coronation honors. In spite of this they could only muster 46 votes altogether. Among the men who absented themselves rather than vote for the bill were Lord Devonport, who in the 1906 election won Devonport for the Liberals as Mr. Hudson Kearley, and distinguished himself by his strong attacks on the House of Lords. Another notable absentee was Lord Weardale (formerly Mr Philip Stanhope), who spoke strongly against the bill, but refused to vote against his party. Lord Furness (formerly Sir Christopher Furness), another prominent Radical, refused to vote, as did also Lord Courtney (formerly Mr. Leonard Courtney). A short period in the Upper House seems to alter the most radical point of view.

GET IT AT THE BAY

LLOYD GEORGE ON A WAR FOOTING

Montreal Star—It is unusual and welcome to find the name of Lloyd George figuring a sthe rallying cry of British progressive patriotism. We would have said "of British Imperialism" if we had not feared to employ a term at which the Chancellor or his friends might take alarm. But the truth is that the carefully prepared and written statement made by Mr. Lloyd George at the Mansion House is by far the boldest utterance in a time of crisis which has echoed through London in many a day. The far-reaching significance o fthe declaration is that it does not merely bind Britain to defend herself when attacked, but declares that she will "maintain her place and prestige among the powers of Europe," and will not "surrender her great and beneficient position for good," nor will she be "treated as of no account in the Cabinet of nations."

This seems to mean, in two words, that Britain means to be consulted before Germany is allowed to establish a coaling station on the West African coast. To satisfy France in the matter of Morocco is not enough. Britain must be content as well. All talk of a division in council between France and Britain, may be dismissed as chaff. If these two powers decide to separate on this question, we may be confident that they perfectly understand each other, and that they take this course for reasons of high strategy. If it is merely a question of turning Germany out of Agadir, Britain could probably to the work at less cost without France than with her. She would merely send a battleship to Agadir to suggest that the German cruiser go away; and then await attack. And in no place could she be attacked. On the other hand, if France were involved ,this would mean war at once on the Franco-German frontier.

THE RECIPROCITY QUESTION

Montreal Herald—The reciprocity agreement has been accepted by both Houses of Congress. It still hangs fire in the Canadian Parliament. Yet is is probable that the preponderance of opinion in favor of the pact is greater in Canada than in the States. There the farmers are, in the main, opposed, as well as many of the protected interests. Here the militant opposition is practically confined to the cities; the agricultural communities seem strongly favorable.

In spite of this, President Taft has been able to carry out his end of the bargain while Sir Wilfrid will in all probability be compelled to appeal to the Canadian electorate before the recalcitant Conservative minority will allow the Canadian bill to pass Parliament. And all because an archaic system of parliamentary debate, maintained by political sentimentalism, empowers an ambitious minority practically to usurp the functions of government—at least to defeat the program of a government placed in power and upheld by the majority of the Canadian people.

However, all that will be accomplished by this undemocratic obstruction will be delay. There seems no room for doubt that the people will empower Sir Wilfrid to keep faith with President Taft.

There has been no serious criticism of the reciprocity agreement on economic grounds. In fact, such opposition as has developed—aside from the ordinary partisan opposition—is practically based on the assumption that reciprocity will prove commercially profitable. Some profess to fear that its profit will induce the Canadian people to demand free trade in other lines, to the detriment of our industries; others claim the taste of American dollars will develop an appetite for annexation. Both arguments fall down if reciprocity is a failure. And if there are any Canadians who really believe that selling more goods for more dollars to the States will weaken Canada's loyalty to the Empire, we can offer no balm for their fears. On their estimate of Canada's spirit ,this country's doom is sealed with or without reciprocity. For the States can annex us any time by the simple process of dropping their tariffs against us, without our connivance or consent.

As a matter of fact, the Democrats are bound to lower the tariff anyway. But what we gain by the reciprocity bargain is that the proposed concessions are ours exclusively. In a general reduction we would have to share the benefits of the larger market with the rest of the world.

OBSERVATIONS

British Whig, Kingston—A Toronto paper publishes an alleged picture of T. Herbert Lennox, M.P.P., as he stood in North York, at a political meeting and accepted "an ovation from a monster crowd." The picture, however, appears to be that of Rameses II., whose mummy was discovered many years ago. Mr. Lennox should sue the Mail for damages.

Calgary Albertan—Supposing there was a war, here is what Germany would be up against: Great Britain and France 81 battleships. Germany ad Austria 44. Odds of two to one. Great Britain and France 61 cruisers. Germany and Austria 26. Odds about three to one. Great Britain and France 391 destroyers. Germany and Austria 150. Well onto a four to one shot. We are indebted to our Centre street contemporary for these figures, and its comment is that the Motherland is a tottering old nation in need of charitable assistance.

Saskatoon Phoenix—Calgary's census shows an increase of nearly one thousand per cent. in the past ten years. We would suggest to the Calgary Herald, which is such a bitter opponent of the Laurier government, that it hunt up the statistics showing the progress of that place under a Conservative regime, and publish them for the benefit of its readers.

Ottawa Free Press—Sir Mackenzie Bowell and Hon. G. E. Foster are coming home on the same ship. Who sits between them at meal times?

TRYING TO AVOID HUSBAND.

Colt Seeks Reconciliation; Ethel Says "No"

St. Johns, Que., July 28—The merry little game of hide-and-seek marking the Barrymore-Colt divorce preliminaries, goes on. Russell Colt has been here, and has seen his son "Sammy." Then he left for New York.

The next train from Montreal brought his actress-wife, Miss Ethel Barrymore. She had, it would seem, been staying at the Place Viger hotel, Montreal, waiting until her husband left the little town where their son is staying with Mr. and Mrs. S Fring.

Miss Barrymore has seen her son several times and has visited the boat club twice. The plainly-dressed little woman caused little comment here, few people in the town knowing anything of the romance.

Yesterday afternoon she went for a trip up the Richelieu in the motor boat that Mr. Frings has named after the little boy.

It is evident from messages that Mr. Colt sent from here that he is attempting a reconciliation with his wife. From Miss Barrymore's actions, it is evident that this is the last thing she desires. She has undoubtedly been avoiding her husband, and it is understood, is quite prepared to leave the town if he should come here

Missouri Boosters Meet.

West Plains, Mo., July 28. — Governor Hadley and other state officia s joined in a meeting here today with representatives of commercial clubs in cities and towns throughout the southern half of Missouri to discuss plans for an organized campaign to exploit the Ozark region. It is proposed to begin a systematic campaign to advertising to call public attention to the wonderful fruit-growing and other natural resources of that section of Missouri.

Boy Burned to Death.

Grande Point, Man., July 28—While his father was at work in the fields and his mother was tending her garden, William Alexander Matthews, aged five years, was burned to death today, when the home was completely destroyed by fire, his body being found in the ruins of the completely demolished house.

DISTRICT NEWS

WETASKIWIN.

A terrible windstorm struck Wetaskiwin on Tuesday evening, about nine o'clock, but no damage was done. The wind blew at a lively rate for about half an hour, and was followed closely by a heavy thunder storm. The storm came up so unawares that many pedestrians on the street were caught unawares. Following the hottest afternoon of the season, the precipitation was not entirely unexpected, but came up so suddenly that many were forced to run for cover.

Everything points to a bumper crop in this district this year. Great enthusiasm is shown over the fall wheat, as the grain in many instances stands as high as a man's shoulders, and will likely be ready for harvesting in about three weeks. Oats fields are heading out and there is much speculation as to what the yield will be. With the abundance of moisture we have had, and with the absence of any damaging hail storms, contribute to make this what promises to be the banner year in the history of the district.

Gus. Utas left on Tuesday's train for California, where he will spend some time with a brother, and if he likes the country will reside there permanently.

Mrs. Minhennick and daughter arrived in the city Tuesday morning on a visit to her sister, Mrs. R. C. Switzer, and other friends.

Mrs. C. Harkness and two sons are taking a trip to Ontario. Their friends trust they will have a most enjoyable outing.

Mr. and Mrs. Terry are having their residence on Thusis street remodelled. A large addition is being added to the west side.

A. E. Wynne spent the week-end with friends in Edmonton, who recently arrived from the east.

Mss Olga Ronn, of Calgary, who has been spending her vacation in the city with relatives, returned south on Tuesday.

The people around here have been kept busy the past couple of weeks fighting mosquitoes. It is said that a big mosquito year is a sure sign of a big grain year. If the crop this year is in proportion to the number of mosquitoes there need be no uneasiness from any quarter.

Harvey Bevins made a business trip to the Capital this week in connection with the work on the gas well.

Miss Kealy, of Medicine Hat, has accepted the position of assistant in the city offices, vice A. E. Warrener, resigned. Mr. Warrener goes to Calgary to enter the real estate business.

At the council meeting held on Tuesday evening the rate for the year was struck. The rate is 24¾ mills for public school supporters and 21¾ mills for supporters of the separate school district. The assessable area is $2,299,586 for municipal and $2,412,416 for public school purposes.

Miss Hamilton, of Toronto, arrived in the city last week to spend some time with her old-time friend, Mrs. R. E. Cutler.

The German Lutheran congregation has let the contract to Sam Reist for the erection of a new church in the southern part of the city. The cost will be about $2.000, and the height from the ground to the top of the steeple will be 52 feet. The work will be rushed and it is expected that the new church will be ready for worship the latter part of September.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. James Bradley regret to learn that their daughter, Phyllis, has been dangerously ill for the past ten days. She is now considered to be out of danger, and is convalescing nicely.

The firm of Talbot & Davis has dissolved partnership, Mr. Talbot continuing the photo studio which he established eight years ago, and which he has made one of the best on the west. Mr. Davis has bought out the Beairsto Garage, where he will doubtless do a good business, as he will specialize on repair work as well as run a livery.

The shoot for the Watson trophy amongst the members of the Wetaskiwin Gun Club is creating a deal of interest, as the contest will terminate in a few days. The present standing gives C. B. McMurdo first place with five birds ahead of Billy Barrett. It will be a merry chase between these two sports.

The local option campaign has started in this city in earnest. There are two petitions in circulation. One is asking that the vote be brought on, while the other is being circulated by the Licensed Victuallers' Association, which pledges the signer to vote against local option.

THE ESKIMOS ARE VERY GOOD TRADERS

Huskies Now Demand Top Prices for Their Curios—Most Sought-for Article is the Ivory Cribbage Board—An Amusing Incident.

At Fort McPherson, the most northerly fur trading post in Canada, this amusing incident occurred last summer. A lady tourist, who was making a collection of native curios, had provided herself before leaving civilization with a small outfit of beads, needles, etc., in the hope of bartering them to good advantage with the aboriginals. Seeing some ivory carvings in a "husky" tent this lady intimated that she wished to acquire them, and offered in exchange first a few packages of needles, and then some beads, both which were inspected and decorously handed back to her with a shake of the head.

After some talking the Esquimaux said he would sell for a pipe and some tobacco. This looked easy, as the curios were cheap at $6 to $7, and the lady went to the Hudson Bay company's store and bought $1 worth of tobacco and a 50 cent pipe. These were handed to the "husky," who courteously looked them over, and then handing the pipe back remarked: "Tobacco good, pipe no dam good." The upshot was that the lady had to invest $5 in a pipe to obtain the covet ed curios.

The most sought-for article of Esquimaux manufacture is the ivory cribbage board, made out of a walrus tusk. These make both useful articles and handsome ornaments. The sides and ends are usually covered with carvings of wild animals, such as walruses, whales, foxes wolves, etc., and this work is in many cases extremely well executed.

A few years ago these cribbage boards could be bought for a comparatively trivial sum but now, owing to a number of tourists having paid absurd figures for them, the price has mounted to an almost prohibitive figure, from $50 to $100 being asked for almost any specimen, while for an unusually well carved board an Esquimaux will not accept less than $125.

Other sought-after articles produced by the "huskies" are bead and shell earrings, soapstone candlesticks, sealing spears, ivory fish hooks and sinkers, and patchwork mats manufactured from a mixture of splices of wild goat, seal and deerskins, sewn together in a regular and not unbeautiful pattern.

The trade with the Eskimo is conducted on somewhat different lines to that with the Indians. For a number of years past whaling schooners hailing from San Francisco, have made their Winter quarters at Herschel Island, so as to be ready to commence hunting these valuable mammals as soon as open water appears. Their crews have dealt largely with the Eskimos in furs and curios, paying small prices and in return selling them flour, bacon, tea, etc., for considerably less than the mere cost of transporting such articles into the country by the McKenzie river route. However, the schooner owners, finding that but little of the profit accruing from the transactions found its way into their pockets, have largely put a stop to the carrying of goods for trading purposes.

As a result a considerable number of the Eskimo make their way by first open water from Herschel island and the country east of the McKenzie river delta to the trading posts on the lower river. On arrival they barter their furs for whatever pleases them, and then something special—a sewing machine, steam tug or what not—catches a husky's eye, and he at once wishes to purchase it. If it is not for sale he at once orders one like it to be brought in next year. This the trader interested agrees to accomplish, and the question of price then comes up. Now the price is not put to the native in dollars, as that would not involve a sufficiently remunerative transaction. Instead, the trader says—in taking an order for a phonograph, for instance, "You must bring me five lynx skins, twenty white foxes and two mink." "Very good," replies the husky, and the deal is closed. He arrives at the post the following summer with the pelts called for, and he is an angry man if his phonograph has not turned up.

A short time ago an Eskimo purchased a steam tug, which he is now an adept in operating, and was charged therefor 100 white foxes, two No. 1 silver foxes, thirty lynx and fifty mink. As the vessel cost but $1,200 at the point where sold the transaction was by no means unprofitable.

FIND TRACES OF FREIGHT CAR THEFTS

Winnipeg, July 28—With two thousand dollars worth of goods alleged to have been the proceeds of freight car thefts and evidences of twice that quantity having been destroyed or disposed of, a north end storekeeper was tonight arrested by the police, who, however, refused to divulge his identity.

The arrest followed the investigations of the police concerning numerous freight car depredations, and the presence in the store of tonight's arrest of partly destroyed merchandise betrayed the police-fear inspired by other recent arrests, the storekeeper in question having proceeded to destroy the evidence of his share in the nefarious transactions.

CHECHAHCO INVASION OF PORCUPINE RIVER

Dawson City Customs Collector Tells of Bronco Busting in Arctic Circle by Survey Outfits—Quaint and Interesting Traits of Indians in Rampart House District.

Dawson, July 26.—The spectacle of western American and Canadian cowboys doing the real bronco busting stunt within the Arctic Circle is being enacted at Rampart House, on the Porcupine river. Of the 150 to 200 horses taken into the country several days ago by the Canadian and American international boundary survey outfits many of the cayuses were green from the ranges of Western Canada and Oregon. The animals never had felt the rasp of a rope or the restraint of a halter until rounded up for the 1,000 mile trip on the Alaska coast and the 1,000 mile ride by steamer on the waters of the Yukon and the Porcupine. J. A. McDougal, customs collector from the port of Dawson, who had returned from Rampart House, where he went to arrange for the opening of a customs post, should one be needed, tells of the conditions there among the surveyors, the traders, and others.

"Rampart House, the old post of the Hudson's Bay Company, and one of the most remote trading posts in the Yukon basin," says Mr. McDougal, "never saw such chechahco hordes as now occupy the place. It is a virtual circus for the natives. Many of them possibly never saw a horse until this outfit landed there. When the steamer on which we ascanded the river blew her whistle the several hundred Indian dogs of the village took to the hills in terror and did not return for two days. This was the first steamer there in many a moon and the dogs knew nothing of such monsters.

"When the cowboys hove in sight with the strange huge beasts which eat hay and carry men and freight on their backs, the Indians were popeyed. When the men got the wilder mustangs out and began throwing ropes, putting on Mexican saddles and riding the beasts and during all the desperate gyrations and spinnings and bow-legged jumping of the nags, the Indians were mute in astonishment. Never had the simple redskins dreamed of such feats. It was most fascinating even to the whites. The riders are the best horsemen, real cowboys in fact, picked right off the western ranges and thoroughly up in the business.

Cadzow's Hospitality.

"More than two hundred Indians are at Rampart House and the head of the Porcupine. The greater number of the bucks are at the head of the Porcupine just now shooting muskrats live in that region, and the natives get great numbers of them each season. A favorite way of killing them is with rifles of 22 calibre.

"Last winter was one of the most successful the Indians of the Porcupine ever experienced. They made a splendid catch of furs and brought them to Gadzow's post at Rampart House to trade.. After the great trading feast the natives proceeded to enjoy themselves. The first great pleasure was afforded by the hospitable Cadzow. He gave the full 200 a Christmas dinner that was a relay of feasting. All could not eat at once, but Cadzow had his warehouse full of goods and he did the honors like a king. Day and night the feast progressed and after every redskin was stuffed to bursting, the most ardent devotion was paid to the muse Terpsichore. Nineteen solid hours of dancing was the order. John the Fiddler is the name of the orchestra. John is a native and he fiddles with the enthusiasm of an Italian virtuoso and never gets weary while there is any one left to dance.

Indians Graceful Dancers.

"The natives on the Porcupine do not confine themselves to the savage perpendicular jumpings and gutteral singings The Porcupiners are graceful anu artistic They have a number of square dances which are a creation par excellence, modelled after the square dances famous in their day among the palefaces One dance is the old Red River jig, a peculiar square dance with a number of lively jig kicks mixed in by the way of spice A delicatessen reel and pseudo Sir Roger de Coverly are the two other most popular dances

"Three Eskimos were there during the festivities, but would not embrace and dance with the Indians Four are required to make a set in a dance The year before it happened that four of the Eskimos were present and they danced in the hall with the Indians, but would not deign to swing partners or indulge in 'alamand left' with the Porcupiners The social lines are taut. The Eskimos are exclusive. The aristocracy that bulges out in them is most amusing to the white man and may be the subject of some little comment among the reds.

A Girl's Bonanza.

"Cadzow has a splendid two-storey store building. It would be a credit to Dawson. He carries a large stock. Last Winter the finest black fox skin ever seen in the country was taken by an Indian girl of 15. She captured it in a marten trap. It will probably bring $2,000 in London. The proud Indian father on marching down to Cadzow's bought with the skin all that his simple heart desired. For months one Indian had been trying to scrape together enough furs to buy the only cast iron cooking stove Cadzow had in stock. The owner of the black fox made a bee line for that stove and got it, much to the chagrin of his rival. Then the old man bought the girl a silk scarf and the mother a silk scarf, or himself the old fellow got a sombrero. Then the money went fast for knicknacks and whatnots.

"Finally the old chap bethought him to get some staple food articles. But by the time he had about cornered the luxuries he had to get off with very little of real service. But that's the Indian. This lucky old fellow is known among the Indians as King Edward. Just how the Indians got the name I do not know, but they heard it somewhere and seemed pleased to bestow the euphonious title on the once lucky owner of the finest black fox skin ever seen in the land

Baked Beans vs. Geese.

"Several prospectors have been engaged for some time at the head of the Porcupine on the Old Crow, near the Arctic, David Lord, one of the men, came into Rampart house while I was there and brought a singular story. He reports that on the Old Crow hundreds of thousands of fine geese nest each season. Last season Lord found the young geese everywhere about him. They were so tame he enclosed a large number until the little fellows began to sprout wings. He then extended his makeshift fence and clipped the wings of the fowl. The young geese could not leave. Lord had hundreds of them. He intended to keep them grazing until late in the fall and then to kill and put them in cold storage. But he could not enlarge his fence far enough to give them all the necessary grazing room and many had to be released. As it was Lord saved 80 of the geese and in the fall killed and froze them. He ate goose to a finish. When he came to Cadzow's, Lord brought down a supply. Mrs. Cadzow cooked them and served a feast to everyone at the place. I had the pleasure of partaking. Lord also sat down. To the astonishment of us all Lord refused the delicate flesh of the goose and, having had no chechahco food for months landed full force on that rare and delicate dish, pork and beans."

While at Rampart house Mr. McDougal ascended the hill, and being inside the Arctic circle, saw the sun go his 24-hour marathon.

GOOD REASONS

For Demanding the Original Remedy, Newbro's Herpicide.

If you knew it, you would not willingly accept counterfeit money. Instead, you would probably raise a disturbance and seek some means of redress.

Why then accept a preparation said to be "just as good as Newbro's Herpicide?" You know it is a counterfeit, an imitation of the real thing. You want the original dandruff germ destroyer, Herpicide, and you can get it, too, if you insist.

Redress is always possible in such an instance. The most effective method is to trade where you get what you ask for and no suggestions offered.

With the death of the dandruff germ the hair stops falling and is permitted to resume its natural growth and beauty. Such results follow the use of Newbro's Herpicide. It stops itching of the scalp almost instantly.

A counterfeit article is never "just as good." Herpicide is sold and guaranteed by all druggists.

Applications may be obtained at all good barber shops and hair dressers.

Send 10c in postage for sample and booklet on the care of the hair to The Herpicide Co., Dept. R., Detroit, Mich.

ELEVEN DROWNED ON THE N.S. COAST

Steamer John Irwin Founders and Only One of a Crew of Eleven Was Saved—Steamer Had Been Long Overdue.

Halifax, N.S., July 28—The steamer John Irwin reported yesterday to be overdue on a trip from Port Morien to Halifax foundered, and of her crew of eleven, ten perished. The only man saved is W. L. McLeod, the mate, who, on reaching Sherbrooke today told the harrowing story.

"The steamer John Irwin at 5.15 o'clock founded six miles off Beaver Light. At the time the sea was running high with a heavy off shore gale. In the gale the cargo shifted badly, the ship listed and the water, sweeping over everything tore away the hatches and in a moment it was evident that the ship was doomed. The captain ordered the boats cleared but before the covers could be cut away the steamer plunged under head first carrying all hands down with her. The second engineer I believe was still below and could not reach the deck."

Mate McLeod went on to say that when he (the mate) came to the surface he secured a cork fender. A moment later one of the hatches and then part of a bulkhead appeared out of which he constructed a raft. He picked up the cook and shared his raft with him. He saw the chief engineer on another of the hatches and spoke to him also. He saw Alex McIntosh, one of the firemen, on some wreckage but they soon disappeared. The terrible batering of the storm soon told on the cook and he lost heart and despite Mr. McLeod's repeated efforts he was unable to save the unfortunate cook who died of exposure that evening

Mr. McLeod drifted ashore at eastern Red Hold at the entrance to Liscombe Harbor between 6 and 7 o'clock on Wednesday night in a state of utter exhaustion. He slept under a tree all night and in the morning managed to make his way over the unbroken country to Abraham Fancy's at Marie, where he was cared for and on the arrival of the Dufferin he came to Sherbrooke.

Asked for further details McLeod replied that "It was all too sudden to leave much to tell. The cargo shifted and she went down within a minute."

McLeod did not know the name of all the members of the crew who numbered eleven all told.

CASTRO PLANS TO RULE AGAIN IN VENEZUELA

Ex-President Has Gathered 2,000 Partisans Around, and With Abundance of Money and Equipment a Rising is Feared.

New York, July 27.—Like the leading character in a melodrama, ex-President Castro has gathered around him 2,000 partisans and, safely ensconced in the mountainous regions bordering on Maracaibo Gulf, is planning to reconquer his country. He is five hundred miles from Caracas, but his mere presence on Venezuelan territory has created a national panic. Despatches from Caracas state that the present regime is tottering, and that Castro is certain to re-establish his rule unless prevented by foreign intervention. A telegram to the New York Sun from Caracas says that, even with prisons staring them in the face, soldiers and civilians have declared they want only the word to fight for their former chief.. Castro has several thousand modern rifles with ammunition, and also possesses £1,400,000 in a Paris bank.

His prestige, first established twelve years ago, when with twenty-three cowboys as an initial force he overthrew the Venezuelan government, is said to be even greater than ever before, and his skill in avoiding what practically amounted to the combined secret service of the world's leading powers, and his safe arrival in Venezuela while the police in every port of the Western Hemisphere were waiting to seize him as a pirate, strongly appeal to the Venezuelan temperament. General Gomez, brother of the president, has been sent with two battalions to Maracaibo Gulf to conduct reconnaissances, and all the Venezuelan troops are being held in readiness for battle.

America is watching the dramatic situation as if it were some theatrical scene. The "Modern Flying Dutchman," as Castro is called, has no sympathisers, but Americans cannot conceal their admiration for the romantic side of his exploit. The Washington Government does not know how to handle the situation. Public opinion would not support a United States army being used to oppose Castro, for that would mean an interminable conflict, with probably a large loss of life, and stir up the suspicions of other South American countries. It is probable that the United States government will permit the situation to develop further before deciding upon a course of action.

BLAZING A CANADIAN TRAIL.

"Apostle of Good Roads" Picking Road for Automobilists.

Fairmont, N.D., July 26.—Charles M. Thatcher, an old trail blazer of some note, is journeying through the Red River valley in the interests of good roads and incidentally picking an auto route for tourists from Mexico to Canada.

Thatcher is known as the "Apostle of Good Roads," owing to his active interest in that movement and has been a successful worker along this line.

His outfit is unique: He travels with his little team of Spanish mules and spring wagon, with which he has covered some 18,000 miles in the interest of good roads. He believes that hundreds of wealthy Americans tour Europe annually in preference to their own country because of its superior highways.

DODGED THE REPORTERS.

New York, July 25.—Ethel Barrymore, the actress, whose Pacific coast tour was suddenly ended last week just after the announcement that she was seeking a divorce from her husband, Russell Colt, arrived in New York yesterday on the Twentieth Century Limited, and escaped an army of newspapermen and friends by the unusual feat of making that fast train stop at 125th street. The stop made the train several minutes late, but it enabled Miss Barrymore to evade questioners and to take a later train for Toronto, where her baby boy has been in the care of a nurse ever since the first rumors of trouble.

A SENSATIONAL NEW YORK MURDER

Old Man Was Done to Death in Room of Iroquois Hotel—Police Hope to Capture Murderer by Finger Marks Which He Left.

New York, July 27—New York's latest sensational murder the aged and deaf victim of which was apparently aroused from sleep in a central hotel of this city during last night to be done to his death, will not be long in the solving, say the police officials tonight. All but the murderer's name and address are now in their hands, they believe, in the form of many prints made by the bloodstained fingers which choked and gagged William Henry Jackson, the Wall street broker, to his end.

They constitute the detectives' chief clue and police headquarters is sitting up tonight checking them against thousands of finger pictures stowed away in the Bertillon system records. The man or men who killed Jackson in his room at the Iroquois Hotel in the early hours today left behind a coarse handkerchief, stained with blood and several well defined imprints of fingers were found upon it and in the bathroom. The bed upon which the broker fought for his life was marked with the crimson prints of his slayer's hands and these, too, were caught by the camera to strengthen the net which the police say they are casting about the murder.

Although Mr. Jackson was beaten with a blackjack after he had been choked, death was directly due to the coarse towel stuffed in his mouth, which caused strangulation as revealed by the autopsy. There was no indication that chloroform had been administered the coroner's physician said.

INDIGNATION OVER FISHER'S STATEMENT

Australian Labor Ministers Believe Error Was Made in Cable—Loyal Enthusiasm at Meeting in Victoria—Interesting Question Arising Over Preference.

Melbourne, July 26—Remarks made by Premier Fisher anent the subject of the relations between the mother country and the Overseas Dominions, have caused much resentment in Australia. W. T. Stead interviewed the prime minister when the latter was attending the imperial conference, and in the cabled report of the interview sent to Australia, Mr. Fisher is stated to have said that the empire didn't exist except in the form of loosely joined nations who would choose whether and when they would assist each other

Indignation Aroused.

Throughout all the states of the Commonwealth his words have aroused indignation, and politicians for the last few days have been busy renouncing the premier.

The labor ministers doubt that Fisher ever made such a statement and believe that an error was made in the cabling of the message.

The governor of the state of Victoria, at a public meeting, said with emphasis: "We are an empire," and could get no further with his speech for several minutes, while a wave of enthusiastic loyalty swept over the assemblage. The sentiment was cheered to the echo. So much feeling has been aroused by the publication of the interview that the caucus of the Federal Labor party is anxious as to the probable result it may have in the constituencies, for they recognize that the vast majority of Australians are convinced imperialists.

Question Arising Out of Preference.

An interesting question arising out of the preference granted by Australia to Britain has been settled by the minister of customs, Mr. Tudor. Hitherto the preference granted has been based on the amount of wages British workers represented in the goods. Being informed that these wages constituted a small proportion of the value of the imports, the minister directed that in fuure all goods in which the manufacturing processes are wholly conducted in Britain are to be treated as entitled to the preference.

Anglo-Japanese Treaty.

Despite a cable announcing that the premier had been consulted prior to the renewal of the Anglo-Japanese agreement the attorney-general, Mr. Hughes, states that the federal cabinet was not consuled in the matter. He maintains that all of the Overseas governments ought to have been sounded before action was taken by the home government.

Huge Irrigation Colony.

Mr. Holman, of the federal cabinet, contemplates founding a gigantic irrigation colony close to Cocmable, where he proposes to utilize the vast stores of artesian well water.

Sailors Eaten by Natives.

The steamer Mallata sent a boat's crew ashore at Malekula, New Hebrides.

Hardly had the men landed than a treacherous party of natives riddled them with shot and hacked their bodies to pieces. Finally the natives cooked the bodies on the beach and ate them.

A Corporal Denounced.

Lisbon, July 27—It was officially announced today that a corporal of Sixteenth infantry had been denounced by Comrad as a monarchist conspirator and placed under arrest.

ESKIMOS DROP ONE TO MATT'S BRIGADE

Terry Allowed Five Hits and Four Runs in the First Innings—Vandine and Dudley Also Had a Try at Pitching—Manning Twirled a Good Game—Score 13-5.

Calgary, July 28.—Terry was easy for the Bronchos today, three triples and two singles being made off of him in the first innings, which netted four runs. Vandine was then brought in from third base to see what he could do and lasted until the seventh, after he had walked two, Deacon called upon Dudley to save the game. Dudley immediately filled the bases, and then forced in two runs. Chick's double then brought in two more runs, and Jimmy Flanagan followed with a home run. Seven taps had to be rung on the gong to indicate the result of Calgary's lucky seventh. Manning pitched good ball, only allowing four hits. Every hit was made at opportune times and they were to blame for the Eskimos three runs. The game was called on account of darkness after Edmonton had secured two more in their half of the eighth.

SWIFTS DEFEAT ST. GEORGES AGAIN

The Packing Plant Men Have Now a Very Fast Hold on the League Championship and Cannot be Beaten Out—Saints Had Score 2-0 in Their Favor at Half, But Swifts Won 3-2.

The Swifts got a bad scare last night in the game against the St. Georges and it was only by some exceptionally fast work that they managed to win out in the final moments of the contest. This win assures the Packing Plant men of the bunting in the city football league this season, as they have too great a lead to be overtaken by either the Callies or the Y.M.C.A.

In the game last night the final score was 3-2 and it was the most exciting game played on Diamond Park for a long while. The half time score was 2-0 in favor of the St. Georges, and things were shaping up nicely for ushering in the first defeat of the season for Swifts, but in the second half the forwards of the latter team, got their combination working much better and before the final whistle blew, the Packing Plant men had shoved in three goals. In the meantime, Moffat, Towns and the goaltender had made an impregnable defense, keeping the Saints from getting many dangerous shots on the nets. However, the victory of the Swifts was a deserved one and they had to fight every inch to get it.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 28. — For the first time in the history of baseball an outfielder yesterday made a triple play unassisted during the game between Los Angeles and Vernon.

The Angels were batting. With Moore on second and Merger on first, Akins drove a long liner to right centre field in the sixth inning. Centre fielder Carlisle of Vernon grabbed the drive on the run, sprinted to second, doubling Moore, and then trotted to first, putting out Metzger, who had already rounded second.

OUR TRADE MARK

It is reasonable to expect that our trade mark will be looked for, in connection with every gift from the jewelers; for it means not only is the article of quality, but that it has been selected from a perfectly up-to-date stock.

MAROONS LOSE BOTH YESTERDAY

Robins Win Afternoon Game Through Winnipeg's Errors, and Wallop Out Eighteen Safeties for Fifteen Runs in the Second—Taylor's Pitchers Could Do Nothing With Moose Jaw in the Evening — Scores 3-1 and 15-3.

Winnipeg, July 28.—Bill Hurley's Moose Jaw tribe tightened their hold for first place in the Western Canada baseball league by walloping the Maroons in both games here today. Costly errors by the local infielding gave the visitors the first game, by the score of 3 to 1, but in the second contest the visitors simply slaughtered the ball. They drove the pill for eighteen hits, many of them extra base drives for a total of fifteen runs.

It was all clean hitting and they held the home team to three runs. The box scores tells the rest of the story.

Wolgast and Manager Disagree.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 28. — Tom Jones, manager of Ad. Wolgast, is speeding toward Chicago. He left Los Angeles suddenly in response to a telegram from the lightweight champion, requesting him to come East at once.

Some believe that there is a break imminent between Jones and Wolgast, but the latter, prior to his departure for the East, informed a number of friends that there is not the slightest danger of a ruction.

Wolgast's action in agreeing to meet McFarland at 133 pounds at 3 o'clock did not meet with the approval of Jones, and it is probable they will thrash the matter out in Chicago.

"While it looks like poor judgment on Wolgast's part," said Jones, "it is doubtful whether he will be successful in preventing the match should he attempt it."

Game on Second Street Was a Tie.

The Wholesalers, by a strenuous seventh innings managed to pull up even with the Edmonton Iron Works' team last night, by getting four runs and the game was called on account of darkness with the score a tie, 12-12. ## BRANDON DEFEATS PICKERS AGAIN

With Dellar in the Box the Angels Win Again With Saskatoon—Game Was a Good One and the Score Was Close Until the Eighth — Score Was 4-1.

Saskatoon, July 28.—Brandon and the Berrypickers fought it out for the cellar position in the Western Canada league tonight, and when it was all over the locals had once more cinched the bottom of the percentage column. The game was an exceptionally good one, despite the unevenness of the score, and it was anybody's win until the eighth, when the Angels managed to squeeze in a pair, and could not be overtaken. Miller pitched splendid ball for the Pickers, fanning twelve Brandonites, though he was touched at seven different times when hits were needed, which meant a win for the visitors. Dellar was also very effective, retiring eight by fan route and allowing only five scattered singles.

Echoes From the Frontier.

Says the News Telegram—One of the features of the Edmonton-Calgary series is the warm line of talk that is dispensed by the fans. Much of it is directed to Jack Morrison, for some of the fans fancy that he has the winning or losing of the game; and they sure take pains to tell him just what they think of the decisions.

"O, you sandbagger!" howled one fan at almost every word of the Umps, and the only move Jack made was to turn and gaze sadly upon the excited fan, with the cold eye of a martyr.

"Here comes Death on Stilts," another fan screamed, as Bell came to bat. Bell pretended not to hear, but he must have wanted to toss a bat at the man that had so little feeling.

"Let the old man get a hit! Please, see, I am on my knees" bellowed another freak, as Deacon White strode to the pan. Then ensued a perfect torrent of hot stuff as the Deacon fanned out. White would have given a five spot for a hit.

"One, two, three, four, five, six, seven," tolled the whole stand as Dickenson stood at the plate and waved the war club waiting for the ball. Ferdie Manning had the wit to keep him there for some minutes, and on the last trip to the plate the count ran up into double figures, the clever Edmonton twirler feeling about as small as a minute. Dick can't hit unless he waves the old bat, and the counting flurried him beyond words. He probably swore to himself.

No one enjoys a game more than the charming wife of Deacon White, and the way that lady warms up to the game is one of the features of the battles.

"O, Elmer," she calls, as Pat Moran comes up, and Pat goes up in the air as much over that one word as he does over anything. He hates that name and Mrs. White can call that name "Elmer" in the soothingest way—not.

It is sure some series. By the way, there is a game this afternoon and evening.

DECOURSEY AND MULLEN MAY MEET

King Veterans Have Warm Words and Their Disagreement Results in a Challenge — Bout Between Two May Take Place Here During Fair Week.

Differences of comparatively recent origin between Barney Mullen and Billy Decoursey, ring veterans of international fame, now residents of Edmonton and Strathcona, respectively, may be settled with the gloves, Marquis of Queensbury rules to govern the fight. The two exponents of the art of self-defense are real mad at each other, so angry, in fact, that they came together in a local hostelry yesterday afternoon and but for the interference of bystanders, might have gone to a finish.

Immediately after the encounter Decoursey challenged Mullen to a match, the fight to take place during fair week. Decoursey declared that he would take Mullen on if the latter could make 135 pounds at six o'clock in the evening of the fight. He also wanted Barney to put forfeit money right there on the spot, to which proposition no agreement was reached, the question of weight still being undecided. Mullen promised to take the matter up later.

It is believed, however, that Barney would experience some trouble in training down to 135 pounds at six o'clock, preceding the fight, although he might be able to make 137 and be strong enough to put up a good fight. He has always fought in the welterweight class, which is 142 pounds.

Decoursey could easily make 135 pounds, as he has invariably fought in the lightweight division.

Local fight fans figure that a glove contest between Mullen and Decoursey would be one of the best drawing cards yet pulled off by the Edmonton athletic association. They urge that Mullen cannot very well ignore the challenge to box Decoursey if the matter of weight does not prove to be too big a stumbling block.

Decoursey and Mullen are pastmasters in the boxing game, each having fought topnotchers in the welter and lightweight divisions, both in Canada and the United States. Decoursey beat Hierrera, the one-time invincible Mexican, in 20 rounds at Los Angeles, and gained a decision over Joe Bernstein, the crack lightweight of New York, in the same number of rounds in the California metropolis. He has also boxed Abe Attel, Frankie Neil and many others.

Mullen, too, has a good ring record. Among the classy welters he has met Rufe Turner, probably heads the list. Mullen was in charge of the late Stanley Ketchell's training camp when the champion middleweight was at the zenith of his fame in the pugilistic world.

Decoursey expects to leave Monday for Saskatoon, where he will box Billy Nutt again. The date for the match will be fixed after his arrival there. Decoursey recently won over Nutt after seven rounds of hard milling before the local athletic association, and Nutt demanded a return match. Decoursey accommodated him and they will fight it out once more.

BRENNAN'S DEBUT WITH VICTORIA

Jack Played His First Game on Wednesday Last and Did Well at Shortstop—Tug Wilson Has Also Performed With His New Teammates.

Jack Brennan, who was released some time ago by Deacon White, and who went to the Victoria team in the Northwestern league, did not have to remain long on the bench before given a trial with the Islanders. Jack's first appearance on the diamond was on last Wednesday, when Victoria played against Seattle, and he did well considering it was his first attempt at the class of ball played on the coast. Playing in the shortstop position, he had three put-outs and three assists and made only one error. He was at bat twice, but got no hits. The third time he came up to the plate, one of Sage's shoots caught him and Jack got free transportation to first. Brennan is now one of the regulars with the Islanders and all the fans in Edmonton wish him the best of luck in keeping his position on the team.

Tug Wilson, the star left fielder of the Calgary team, who left the Bronchos for the big league several weeks ago, has also had a chance to show his worth. Tug is now with the Boston Americans and has figured in only two games to date. Silent has only been at bat three times, as he did not play in two entire games, but has not secured a hit. He has had two put-outs and his fielding average is still .1000.

DOUBLE HEADER HERE TODAY

The Y.M.C.A. and Retailers Play at 2 O'clock This Afternoon and the Irish-Canadians and Y.M.C.A. Will Perform at 4.30—First Game is the Final One Between the Two Teams.

The Y.M.C.A. and Retailers will hook up in a league baseball game this afternoon on Diamond Park. The Storekeepers are out to win this game as a loss may mean the loss of the league championship. These two teams have met on three different occasions this year and the Y. managed to corall two out of the three games played. The Retailers have now lost three times, so if they are beaten this afternoon, Parney's men will in all probability annex the bunting unless the Irish and Norwood beat them three times. Both these latter teams have shown up well lately and no one can tell what they might do to the two leading aggregations before the end of the season.

Foster will pitch for the Retailers today and the Y. will have three twirlers in uniform, viz. : Butchart, Gosnell and Knott.

Immediately after the game between the Retailers and Y.M.C.A., the Irish-Canadians and Y. will perform. The double bill of games is a new departure in the city league, but the executive wants to get as many games as possible played off while the Deaconites are away from home. Reed and Hilliard will twirl for the Irish. The Y. will also have two pitchers out, as they will have to play two games. Crabbs, who left the Retailers, some time ago, has joined the Y.M.C.A., and may also be given a turn in the box this afternoon.

Football Executive Meeting Tonight.

The secretary desires the members of the executive of the Edmonton Association football league to be present in the parlors of the Y.M.C.A. tonight (Saturday) immediately after the Corinthians practise game. A. Blair Paterson, Secy.-Treas.

Wrestling Bout Postponed.

Chicago, July 28—Rain will not prevent a decision of the Gotch-Hackenschmidt championship wrestling match at White Sox Park on Labor day, according to Jack Curley, manager for Hackenschmidt. A trump card against an unkindly weather man will be the erection of a wooden covering, which will extend out over the padded ring. This will be attached to the roof of the grand stand at a sufficient height not to interfere with the view of any of the occupants of the grand stand or pavilion seats. According to Curley, it will cost $40,000 to open the gates, and the promoters wish to minimize their chances of not adding materially to their bank rolls by public interest in what is generally alleged to be the greatest combat in Western history. The scales of prices has ben determined, and the promoters will begin the advance sale on next Monday, a month before the date for the event.

The prices will range from $1 to $10 The majority of the seats will be sold at $2, $3, and $5, which will include places in the grand stand and pavilion, with $10 the figures for a number of the best box seats. The $1 charge will be for general admission in the far bleachers.

Joe Rodgers passed through the city to join the Gotch camp at Humboldt, Iowa.

Hack will reach the city about 20th August. Dr. Roller will act as his wrestling partner, with Tom Jenkins and Adolph Ernest and one other to be chosen. Gotch is not expected in Chicago until about a week before the match.

How Dooin Was Injured.

St. Louis, Mo., July 28—Dooin must remain in the hospital a fortnight at least, when he hopes to be taken to Philadelphia.

In the presence of the manager's downcast team-mates tonight, an X ray photograph of the fracture, which is of the right fibula, and about four inches above the ankle, was taken. The bone is broken in two.

The accident occurred in the fourth inning of today's game while St. Louis was at bat, third baseman Wally Smith, just had been thrown out at the plate on an outfield hit and centre fielder Oakes was on third base and pitcher Geyer on first. They tried a double steal, and as shortstop Doolan of Philadelphia returned the ball to Dooin, Oakes slid into the plate feet first, striking Dooin with great force.

While Umpire O'Day was waving the runner out, Dooin dropped on his face. Players of both teams carried the manager to a taxi-cab, which took him to the hospital.

Though the physicians at the hospitals announced that Dooin would be out of the game at least two months, the manager told his team mates that he believed he would be able to play again in six weeks.

Shortstop Michael Doolan will act as manager of the team while Dooin is absent and Moran and Madden will be the catchers.

Both Boston Clubs For Sale.

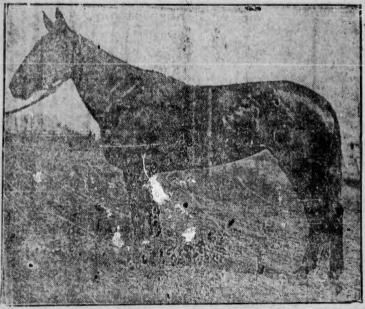
Boston, July 28—It is an odd coincidence that the two local major league baseball clubs are on the market at the samt time, both president John L. Taylor of the Red Sox and William Hepburn Russell, of the Rustlers, being anxious to sell.

It would not be surprising if syndicates headed by two well-known baseball men were the purchasers of the two clubs. Jim McAleer, who is at present manager of the Washington team is mentioned as the likely buyer of the Bostom Americans, while Ned Hanlon, who owns the Baltimore Eastern League Club, is a bidder for the Boston Nationals.

In their day both McAleer and Hanlon were rated among the best outfielders. Since quitting active playing they have been piloting clubs. Hanlon for years was the head of the Brooklyns, while McAleer was the leader of the Browns for a number of seasons. Both know base ball from A to Z, and the chances are that if they became financially interested in a club they would see to it that the said club made a respectable showing.

Local fans realize that what the two home teams need is new owners. Taylor hasn't been able to do much with the Red Sox despite the fortunes he has outlayed buying new players His mistakes in trading have been numerous. This is the first season that Russell has been identified with the game, and everyone knows what a joke proposition the Rustlers have proved.



EMILY MORRIS—Brown trotting mare, by Copper King, gives promise of record breaking in American trot Port Haron last week.

Will Finish Schedule.

Winnipeg, July 28—The report came from Brandon today that the Brandon Baseball club were not anxious to make any more trips west to play Calgary, and trat the secretary of the Brandon club telephoned Frank Bell, of Winnipeg, asking him if the Winnipeg club was going west, as scheduled, and if they would prefer cancelling the western games and playing the balance of the season with the Brandon club.

Frank Bell stated that he had received a telephone message from Magee, secretary of the Brandon club, along the lines as stated, and that he told Magee that the Winnipeg club had every intention of taking the western trip and playing out the schedule to the end of the season, and would not consnt to play Brandon for the balance of the season as requested.

What the Moose Jaw Times Says

From the point of view of gate receipts the schedule is proving itself to be a poor arrangement. Large attendance can hardly be expected when Moose Jaw is playing against Saskatoon and Calgary against Edmonton, yet these teams must play in this way the most of the remainder of the fixtures. With Calgary and Moose Jaw each going strong for first place, it is surely too bad that they will not be seen opposing one another for at least one series in one town. It is a question if the increased attendance for such a series would not make up for the additional travelling expenses involved.

Nelson to Fight Brown.

New York, July 29—Battling Nelson former lightweight champion, has accepted the offer of a local club for a match here in September with either "Knockout" Brown or Abe Attell as his oponent. Brown is willing to meet him at 135 pounds and Attell will accept a bout at 133 pounds, even thtugh he would have to concede eight pounds to his opponent. Meanwhile, Jimmy Britt, Nelson's old rival, who has not taken part in a bout for more than two years is desirous of scheduling a set to and has written that he will be ready to box Nelson in about eigrt weeks.

Monte Attell Draws

Sacramento, Cal., July 29—Monte Attell and Jimmie Reagan fought twenty rounds to a draw here tonight.

From start to finish Reagan showed more gameness and willingness. Attell pulling up on even terms by landing more effective blows and blocking Reagan's continual rushing.

Reagan made a strong finish, rushing Attell all around the ring in the last round, but could not break through the clever defence which Attell showed.

Ex-Maroon Going Fast.

It is now Frederick Luderus, former Winnipeg player, who is now called king of home run hitters. Ty Cobb and Honus Wagner, in their palmiest days, never performed as Luderus, the sterling first baseman of the Phillies, and sensation if the National League. Cobb and Wagner have been sending many pitchers back to the minors by turning apparent defeat into victory with a timely hit or two But a record, the equal of the one just compiled by the member of Charlie Dooin's pennant contenders is still to be made. Baseball experts are ready to give to Luderus the title of champion home run hitter.

It is not from the mere fact that Luderus has hit fourteen home runs that he is being heralded in baseball parlance. He has done what all ball players strive to do. He has driven the ball out of the Broad and Huntingdon streets pack at Philadelphia just when a hit was needed to win the contest.

It happens that Luderus has not compiled his home run hits all against the same club. He has scored one or more against each of the seven other clubs in the league.

Luderus is not only a home run hitter. He has made 102 safeties, good for a total of 175 bases. Fifteen doubles and eight triples are included in the extra base wallops. Philadelphia fans look for Luderus to continue his good stick work for he is of the Lajoie type—a natural hitter.

Ad Peeved With Brown's Talk.

New York, July 29—Ad Wolgast, the lightweight champion, is hot under the collar over the repeated challenges Danny Morgan, manager of Knockout Brown, has been hurling at him, and in reply he has taken a slap at them, using good logic.

"After my fight with Brown in New York," said Wolgast, "I offered to meet him in a twenty-round bout in California for the lightweight championship title. Several clubs were willing to stage the contest, and I lost no time in consenting to the match. Now if Morgan is so anxious to have Brown fight me, why doesn't he grab off one of these offers. If he was sincere he would have brought Brown to San Francisco and been present when I fought Owen Moran. After I defeated Moran I would have gladly given him a match and would have side-stepped Freddie Welsh. I took on Welsh because he had his money up and also challenged me from the ringside."

Another World's Record

Peoria, Ill., July 29—All world's records for 20-foot boats, and all Western river records for 32-foot boats were reduced at the first day's racing of the Western Power Boat Association in this city. San Burr II., owned by A. K. and C. D. White, of Atlantic City, N. J., won the 20-foot class against six contenders covering the ten miles in 19:59 4-5, or just a fraction over thirty miles an hour. Her fastest lap was made at the rate of 31.3 miles an hour, while the previous world's record for this class was held by Comet of Bellevue, Iowa, at 28.47 miles an hour.

Thompson Claims the Title.

New York, July 29—The appearance of "Cyclone" Johnny Thompson, a claimant of the middleweight championship, by virtue of a victory over Papke in Australia, will be the chief event of the present week in New York pugilistic circles. Thompson's will oppose Willie Lewis on Thursday at the National Sporting club.

Attell and Regan Draw.

Sacramento, July 29—Monte Attell and Jimmie Reagan fought twenty rounds to a draw here last night. From star tto finish Reagan showed the more gameness and willingness. Attell Pulling up on even terms by landing the more effective blows and blocking Reagan's continual rushing. Reagan made a strong finish, rushing Attell all around the ring in the last round, but he could not break through the clever defense which Attell showed.

PTE. CLIFFORD'S TARGETS

The following targets show how Pte. W. J. Clifford of Toronto won the King's Prize at Bisley on Saturday.

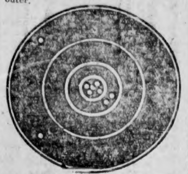
The 800 yards target. Five of the shots were in dead centre, and one was off the target, a total of nine bulls.

At 900 yards. One on dead centre, six other bulls, two inners, and one outer.



At 1,000 yards. One on dead centre, four other bulls, two inners, and two outers. His fourth shot was a miss.

THE THOUSAND DOLLAR KING'S Prize target of Pte. Clifford, of the Royal Grenadiers, Toronto, at Bisley. These were his last day targets and they carried him away above the other competitors for the great marksmanship trophy.

Jack O'Brien's Bluff.

Atlantic City, N. J., July 29—Philadelphia Jack O'Brien today came to the front with a challenge to all claimants of the middleweight championship, Papke preferred. O'Brien expresses himself, rowever, in event of Papke not accepting his challenge to meet any of the heavyweight 'white hopes,' including Jim Flynn, Al Kaufman or Carl Morris.

Big Odds Given.

New York, July 29—If the St. Louis Cardinals win the pennant in the National League this year, George M. Cohan, the actor, wins $20,000 from Felix Isman. If they lose, Cohan will be $2,000 poorer.

Cohan has also placed another bet of $800 against $1500 on the Cardinals.

Joe Jeanette Wins Again.

New York, July 29—Joe Jeanette, the Boston pugilist, knocked out Al Kubiak of Grand Rapids, Michigan, in the third round of their scheduled ten-round bout at the National Athletic Club last night with three rights to the jaw.

FINAL GAME.

The postponed exhibition game for the purpose of picking the team to play the Corinthians on August 24th, will be played on Diamond Park tonight. Kick-off at seven o'clock. Exhibition games as a rule do not furnish a high-class article in good play but tonight promises to be the exception as every man will do his best to secure a place on the tead to do batle for the honor of the local footballers.

The following are the teams schedule dfor tonight:

Parker (Sto. George's); Moffat (Swifts), Kinsman (Callies); Naismith (Y. M.), Whitehead, (St. George's), L. Jennings (S. O. E.); Gathercole (S. O. E.), Sinclair (Norwood), Barton, Lloyd, Manton (Swifts.)

Referee, Mr. Critchley.

Poisoned by Sewer Gas.

AROUND THE CITY

LOCALS

At Erskine Presbyterian church tomorrow (Sunday) evening, the subject will be "He slipped away while I was busy."

Rev. W. H. Conley, of Ottawa, is to preach in the Mission of the Holiness movement church on Kinistino avenue tomorrow at both morning and evening services.

Donald McDonald, charged with the wilful damage to property at the St. James Hotel, was fined in the police court yesterday $20 and $4.25 costs and was also ordered to pay $10 damages.

A ten gallon can, filled with milk, was stolen from the Crystal Lunch counter on First street on Tuesday night. It was found a few hours ater at the back of the new Bijou Theatre having been emptied of its contents.

The funeral of Dirk, the two-year-old son of J. VanHarten, 155 Donald street, took place this morning at eight o'clock from the undertaking parlors, Namayo Avenue, to the Edthe Edmonton cemetery.

Hugh White, of Paddle River, was brought to the city yesterday morning suffering from injuries received on the face and hands as a result of becoming entangled with machinery while working on a threshing machine.

The death occurred last night of James, the six-year-old son of James May, 138 McCauley street. The funeral will be held this afternoon at three o'clock fro mAndrews' undertaking parlors, Namayo Avenue to the Edmonton cemetery.

COUNCIL MEETS MONDAY.

Owing to the fact that Alderman Mould, who was called in from Wabamun yesterday so that there might be a quorum at the council meeting, announced for this evening, was obliged to return this morning the meeting has been postponed once more and will be held on Monday. The date of the election to fill the place on the council left vacant by Alderman McKinley's resignation will then be announced, and in all probability a committee will be appointed two commissioners for appointment to the vacant places on the board.

ORPHEUM MEETING.

Sunday afternoon meeting at the Orpheum Theatre continues to draw a crowd. The programme arranged by the committee for the meeting at four o'clock next Sunday will be up to the usual standard. Mr. C. A. Grant will give a temperance address. The musical part of the programme will be rendered by Miss Edith War whose singing is always appreciated by an Edmonton audience. The orchestra will give several selections, and also accompany the hymns thrown upon the screen, which always forms a leading feature of the meetings. Mr. W. M. Leonard will take the chair. A collection will be taken to defray the expenses. These meetings offer a cool retreat on a warm Sunday afternoon and are becoming a popular service for the people.

C. P. R. CONDUCTORS SUSPENDED.

For the second time within the past year the Canadian Pacific traffic department has suspended a large percentage of its passenger conductors. It is learned that for some reason not yet made public a large number of the conductors who were suspended a few monthh ago pending investigation on charges of misconduct are again released from active service. The suspension orders effected the entire system on the previous occasion, and it is understood that a great many men are concerned this time. What the nature of the present trouble is cannot be learned.

The problem of handling the passenger trains while the small army of conductors was taken off temporarily before was solved by elevating freight conductors to the positions and in the event of the present trouble proving general the same method will probably be adopted.

UNITED AIDS CAMP.

Everything is practically in readiness for two weeks of enjoyment in the United Aids summer camp, about two miles west of the car line at Twenty-fourth street. The wind storm last Tuesday evening upset some of the tents and otherwise played havoc with the equipment, then ready for the first company of guests. Members of the council have meantime restored order, and by Monday it is expected to have things in full swing.

"The need for this annual holiday camp is quite apparent," said a member of the United Aids today. "It was originally established to give some of the poor tired mothers a chance of getting two weeks rest and refreshment under the supervision of an experienced superintendent, who is capable of looking after the comfort of the children as well as the mothers. Right in our midst are families that through sickness or accident are able to get only the bare necessities of life. Perhaps the mother has been left a widow and with a number of children to support, the struggle is a hard one. In many cases the strain becomes almost more than the human frame can stand.

Owing to reports of this nature the Aids Council decided to open the camp again this summer. The Council has done splendid work in raising funds and material with which to carry out the camp idea, and it is hoped that Edmonton citizens will look in on the scene and see for themselves what is being done for the care and recuperation of those who stand in most need of a change from the burdens of the everyday life."

THE WEATHER.

BEER FOUND IN TRUNK.

Three hundred pint bottles of beer concealed in trunks were seized by officers of the license inspector's department at Edson last week. The beer was foun on the premises of John Deveraux, proprietor of the Palace restaurant. Deveraux was arraigned before Inspector Raven, at Edson, on Thursday last, charged with selling liquor without a license. The trial was adjourned till Friday, 4th August, at Edmonton, when Deveraux will appear before Inspector Worsley.

A PURCHASING DEPARTMENT.

The discussion to establish a purchasing department, a proposal which has been under discussion by the commissioners for some time past, was reached by the board at their regular meeting held this morning. This department will be established in connection with the city stores and works department and Superintendent Butler, of the stores and works department will be the purchasing agent, who will order all materials required by the city for whatever purpose. This action will take effect on August 18th next. All departments will be notified at once, and in the meantime the superintendents will be asked to confer with the commissioners for the purpose of establishing regulations for the government of the department.

City Engineer Latornell reported against the request of Carruthers, Round & Co., for old lumber with which to build a bridge over the ravine on Ninth street, in tre Glenora estate. The adverse report was made on the ground that the owners of the property contribute nothing to the city in taxes. In view of the difficulties met in obtaining from the A. MacDonald Co., and others compliance with the request made by the commissioners as a condition of giving assent to the construction of a spur track, it was decided to refer the matter to the council and the solicitor was instructed to address a communication to the council setting forth the matter for heir consideration.

PILES OF COAL AT DULUTH.

Can Be Shipped Into Canada at Once If Duty Is Removed.

Duluth, Minn., July 27—Plenty of coal to meet the threatened shortage in Western Canada can be supplied through the port of Duluth, according to local men in touch with the situation. The docks here are almost filled and thus far there have been few orders from the western states, so that the supply here now is again normal. If the Ottawa government accedes to the demand made upon it by men from Alberta and suspends the tariff on coal imported from this country, this big supply here will find a ready market, and there is plenty of time yet to receive a fresh supply for next winter. Some question may arise, it is said, over the fact that the supplies of coal already are on the docks at Port Arthur and Fort William, on which the duty of 35 cents per ton already has been paid. It is certain that owners of this supply may ask the Canadian government to rebate the amount of duty paid, since they would otherwise be at a disadvantage compared with those who may ship over the border upon the suspense of duty.

CRISIS APPROACHING IN HAYTI.

President Simons' Home City Falls Before Revolutionists.

Port-Au-Prince, Hayti, July 27—It is reported that Cayes, President Simons' home town, has fallen into the hands of the revolutionists. If this is true it is a severe blow to the administration. Considerable activity is noticeable among the soldiers in the palace grounds and is believed to have some bearing on events likely to transpire within the next few days. Advices from Port-De-Paix on the northern coast, indicate uneasiness at that point and the American cruiser Chester has gone there from Cape Haitro. A crisis in the government appears to be gradually approaching.

TWENTY-FOUR YEARS AGO.

Taken From the Files of the Edmonton Bulletin for Saturday, July 30th, 1887.

Calgary is reported to be over-run with men looking for employment just now.

George Kennedy left for Winnipeg on Tuesday by way of Beaver Lake.

Mrs. Belanger, wife of Chief Factor Belanger, of Cumberland, died at St. Boniface on July 18th.

Machinery for a grist mill on Pakan's reserve, supplied by the Indian Department, is now lying at Victoria.

East Edmonton school started on Monday, 18th inst., in E. Caverhill's dwelling. Miss Sutherland, teacher; attendance, 13.

Thomas Anderson, crown timber agent, has been laid up this week, the result of being thrown out of his buckboard on Monday.

A thirst dance has been in progress this week on the Two Hills Indian reserve, opposite town. About 50 tents of Indians took part. The thirst dance proper, of two days' duration, ended last evening. Those who take part in it dance as often and as long as the music plays and neither eat nor drink during the whole forty-eight hours. One of the women taking part was upwards of 100 years of age and had a number of great grand-children on the ground.

J. Lamoureux expected to have his new steamboat running today. He uses the engine of the old government tug, brought up the Saskatchewan in '76.

An aerolite fell on the Stony reserve at the Horse Narrows, Lake St. Ann, about six o'clock on Sunday evening, 17th inst., half a mile from the Indian houses on the reserve and three miles from the H.B. post. The sky was clear at the time, and being in broad daylight the aerolite was easily seen by the Indians in the houses. It approached from the east, having the appearance of a small white cloud. While still at a considerable height in the air it burst with a noise like the firing of cannon and musketry. The report was heard distinctly by Mr. Taylor, at the H.B. post, three miles distant, who, on coming out of the house, saw puffs of smoke, such as would be made by gun shots, starting from a common centre in the air where the aerolite exploded. This appearance was also seen by the Indians from their houses. The explosion took place over the shore of the lake and apparently some of the pieces fell into the lake, sending up numerous jets of steam. One of the pieces which fell on the shore, as large as a man's two fists, was picked up by an Indian named Painted Stone, and is valued by him as good medicine. He only asks twenty-five dollars for it. The Indians look upon the fall of the aerolite as a bad sign. It is reported to have been seen passing over St. Albert Settlement and also over the Little Devil's Lake, twenty miles this side of Lake St. Ann.

TO IMPROVE CAR SERVICE.

The Strathcona Plaindealer has the following timely suggestions for improvements to the interurban car service:

"We believe the time is ripe for the regular service to be increased in frequency from twenty to fifteen minutes. All C. P. R. trains should be met with at least double the regular number of cars. Connections with incoming C. N. R. and G. T. P. trains should be provided over the interurban route. Conductors should be required to exercise their lungs more freely in calling the street names and numbers on both sides of the river, particularly at night. The most conspicuous lack in the service at the present time is identification at night, of the routes the cars are running on. Since the new single trolley cars replaced in front, pathat had a red fanlight in front, patrons of the interurban line find it extremely difficult when on Jasper to determine which are Strathcona cars. If you happen to know that for some weeks back numbers 8, 9, 13 and 22 operate on this line, by running out to the front of every car that comes along, you may discover the one you want, or in the uncertain street light you may discern the word "Strathcona," otherwise you must quiz the conductor on every westbound car until you find the right one. Calgary has a good system of signals for car identification. We don't know whether it is the best or not, but it is infinitely better than the lack of system on this score which has prevailed here so long."

Wm. Rippingale, a representative of R. Score and Son, Ltd., of Toronto, tailors and haberdashers, protests against a story published in an evening paper yesterday to the effect that his company is operating in the city without having taken out a proper license. Mr. Rippingale states that he holds a license under the Dominion Companies Act, which entitles him to do business in any municipality without the payment of any further fee. Up till the present the right of the company to do business in any city of the west has never been challenged, although they have had a well established western trade upwards of half a century.

THE FIRST CELEBRATION IN THE GRANDE PRAIRIE

Bulletin Staff Correspondence.

Beaver Lodge, Alta., July 6—Grande Prairie this month has seen one of the greatest carnivals of sports ever held in Alberta.

The committee in charge of the first annual sports for the settlements of Grande Prairie had been active and a race track, grand stand and athletic grounds had been prepared on "the point," on the shore of Saskatoon Lake. For many days and weeks the settlers of Grande Prairie had been planning to leave their work and their homesteads to come to Saskatoon Lake and spend a three days' holiday. The weather for several days had been very wet and fears were expressed that the sports might have to be postponed. Still on Saturday, July 1st, the caravans began to move towards their camping ground. Settlers brought all their families and in some cases even the dog and the milch cow, while a supply of feed was left behind for the chickens. The unrequired work horses or oxen all roads on Grande Prairie led to the were turned out to grass.

On Saturday, Sunday and Monday Happyland, on the west shore of Saskatoon Lake, a little south of the old trading posts of Revillon Bros. and the Hudson's Bay company.

Even the Presbyterian minister, the Rev. Alex. Forbes, left his new church unfinished at Bear Creek and pitched his tents with the rest. The Rev. Mr. Hopkins and the Rev. Mr. Telfer, of the Methodist mission, and Canon Smith and the Rev. Mr. Moxhay, of the Anglican mission, are located close to the lake and they, too, came to have a holiday and, like the others, to get acquainted with the many people now settled on the Grande Prairie, but lately a [illegible] garden of the desert.

Good Fellowship Prevails.

The program began on Sunday and continued on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday from July 2nd to July 5th. Sunday being a holy day the program for it was left in the hands of the clergy. An afternoon and an evening service had been arranged, but an all-wise Providence ordered otherwise and "showers refreshing" assured the farmers of sufficient moisture for a safe crop and at the same time allowed all the missionaries to unite their forces in a grand union religious service on the first evening of the Grande Prairie festivities.

The chinook came with its windy gusts. The smile of the man in the moon had been broadening for several days and on Sunday evening pierced the mists. As the weather continued fine on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, the crowd increased. The native friends grouped their teepees near the entrance while neighborhood settlers erected their tents along the avenues on either side. There was a general spirit of friendliness among the crowd Many old friends met here unexpectedly and other new acquaintances were formed. The crowd on the grand stand enjoyed the sports and the scenic background of a pretty ridge of Grand Prairie behind the islent from the Grande Prairie missions view of the waters of Saskatoon Lake, sparkling in the sunlight. The herd of horses pastured in the rich grass along the shore.

Program.

Sunday, July 2nd, Day of worship.

A mass meeting on the grounds had been arranged for the afternoon, but had to be abandoned owing to a heavy downpour of rain. The weather cleared towards evening and at 7 o'clock a union song service was held on the dancing platform, which had been erected behind the grand stand.

Clergy and congregations were present from the Grande Prairie missions of the Church of England, Methodist and Presbyterian churches and all joined heartily in the union service.

The Rev Moxhay, of the Anglican Mission opened the service of song. Hymn books of the various denominations were used and the spirit of brotherhood emphasized by the selection of hymns common to all. The birds in the bluffs behind continued their evensong prompted by the hearty singing of the congregation.

The Rev. Alex. Forbes, of the Presbyterian mission, was the first speaker, and he referred to the coming of the nations to Grande Prairie and urged all to live at Peace with his neighbor and with his God. Why had so many come to this land of promise and what were their ideals? He urged all present to live for high ideals, to take a strong part in developing this portion of Canada and neighbor with neighbor in this life prepare for the promised land of heaven, where he hoped all would meet.

Canon Smith, superintendent of the Anglican mission on Grand Prairie, referred to the lesson which was taught by the weather. "There is a God and the weather is beyond our control. We can not do just as we would."

The Methodist mission was represented by the Rev. John Telfer, who read 1 Cor., chap. 13, and by the Rev. Mr. Hopkins, who said that he believed the time would come when the first or Sabbath day of the sports would be the best of all. He thought a man could be a Christian and an athlete. Modern physical culture follows the laws of the ancients. Samson was an athlete Jesus could row a boat in a storm and could ride a colt. Had He come to the west he might have been called a broncho buster.

Pioneer life in a new country required effort The men of Grande Prairie would be better for the effort they put forth to make good. The carpenter of Nazareth was always willing to lend a helping hand to his fellowmen.

An earnest prayer was offered by the Rev. Alex. Forbes, followed by the hymn, "Grant us Thy Peace," and the benediction by Canon Smith.

Ox chariot race—1 Charlie Stoll, 2 Robt Steele.

Nail-driving contest—1 Miss Trelle, 2 Mrs. A. Johnson.

Pillow fight—1 Clarence Lossing, 2 Johnnie Johnson.

This was the most laughable event of the day. A slippery pole had been erected in front of the grand stand. A contestant sat on each end and with a pillow made of a hay-stuffed sack, tried to knock over his antagonist without overbalancing himself. Parries, sallies and feints provoked much laughter.

Football Match.

At 7 p.m. two teams composed of residents living east of Beaver Lodge post office, and residents living west of Beaver Lodge post office, played a game which resulted in favor of the east side residents by a score of 2 to 0.

The teams follow:—

East of Beaver Lodge P.O.—A. Hopkins, L. Konshak, C. W. Richardson, A. D. Marfleet, Walter Roberts, W. G. McFarlane, A. Lewis E. Harvey, F. McKitrick, Hugh Doole, Fred Reeve.

West of Beaver Lodge P. O.—Don Cranston, Al. Smith, R. Simpson, H. Cranston, Victor Flint, L. Smith, Wm. Johnson Jas. Kennedy, Fred Walthew, Russel Walker, A. Telfer.

Referee—Rev. Moxhay.

The west side chose the wind. But the east side had the kick-off, and by a combination play, assisted by a mis-kick of the defence, scored the first goal in a few minutes. Play ranged from end to end till in about ten minutes another goal was scored for the Easterners by H. Doole. Play was even to the end, but no more goals were scored. The good combination play of the east side was counter-balanced by the excellent defence of the westerners.

As outsiders may ask why did the people of Grande Prairie celebrate the 4th and not the 1st of July, it might be said that the reason is simple. It was felt that the sports should last for two or three days, and as the 1st fell on a Saturday the program was started at the beginning of the week. The country is so large that one day is not sufficient to make worth while coming so far with tents and outfits. It was not because the Canadians were in the minority, but because they were generous. Even on the 4th, the only conspicuous Stars and Stripes was on the hat of the umpire at the wrestling match.

Baseball in Grande Prairie.

The prizes were valued at over $300. There was no entrance fee, but it is estimated that 500 people were on the grounds at one time. Some families came in contingents, but others brought their flocks and herds. The balance of the week will be spent by many in returning home and hunting for their work horses or oxen, so that the breaking plow may continue its interrupted round.

Two dancing platforms were erected on the grounds and on Tuesday night there was a grand tea, and dance at the Teepees.

A series of wrestling matches between Sam Logan and Arthur Cooper resulted in a draw. At the first performance Cooptr had the disadvantage of a sickened stomach, and Logan had over-powering stamina, but on the second night the contest was more even. Logan's strong physique and heavy weight matched tre agility of Cooper. Neither was completely thrown though Cooper acted more the part of the defence. A series of light-weight bouts were also arranged. Tht wrestling was not on the official programme and was an extra.

Address by J. K. Cornwall, M.P.P.

Among the visitors at the Grande Prairie sports was J. K. Cornwall, M. P. P. for Peace River. In a brief speech he told the pioneers of their important work in laying foundations. "Grande Prairie," said Mr. Cornwall, bears the same relation to the Cassiar and the [illegible] regions of B. C. as does Southern Alberta to the Kootenay country.

"Today the C. P. R., C. N. R. and G. T. P. have survey outfits, all pointing in this direction. About two weeks ago 150 teams were working on the C. N. R. line now being built towards the Grande Prairie.

"Transportation is as important as population to a new country. Today the Peace River Country is the most widely known country in the world. The eyes of the world are focussed on the country because it is the largest tract of free land left in the Anglo-Saxon world. The destiny of this country is very largely in the hands of the settlers.

"The country south of the Peace River and west of the Sixth Meridian has been placed under a separate land district with a land office of its own. A weekly mail is assured. A telegraph is to be built. A railway is coming. The people of the Grande Prairie are fortunate in living in the 20th century and the Peace river country will be the field of the greatest development in the 20th century of Canada.

"This country is practically but 15 years old. The natives are a quiet, retired people and do not blow their own horns, but they are the original path-finders of the people who made

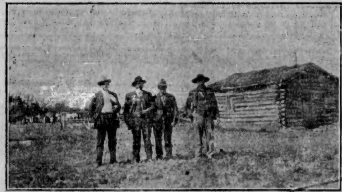
PILLOW FIGHT AT THE GRAND PRAIRIE CELEBRATION—Two of the contestants in this event are shown, as well as a portion of the crowd. Note the character of the settlers pioneering in this new country. The rules of the pillow fight require the contestants to straddle a greasy pole and belabor each other with sacks filled with hay, until one is knocked off the pole.



GROUP OF OLD TIMERS at Grande Prairie celebration. The log house was one of the first two houses on Grande Prairie. It was built in 1898 by Pierre Neass. The other was built by Wm. Callihoo, and has since been burned. Reading from right to left the men are: Pierre Neass, 1896; William Callihoo, 1896; Alex Monkman, 1898; J. K. Cornwall, 1898. # EDISON INVENTION TO SOLVE TIRE TROUBLES

New Discovery a Boon to Autoists—Tire Will Be Immune From Punctures, Will Be of Springs and Will Add to Pleasure of Autoing.

New York, July 27.—It is a strange coincidence that upon the day the announcement was made that George Westinghouse had perfected an air spring for use on automobiles, by the use of which the pneumatic tire may be discarded, there also came private but authentic announcement that under the supervision of Edison there has been perfected an automobile pneumatic tire which is regarded as immune from any puncture.

It is practically indestructible until the rubber itself wears out. How long Mr. Edison's subordinates have been working on this tire is not known, nor is there any authoritative report of the manner in which they have made the pneumatic tire immune from puncture.

Possibly there might have been an earlier announcement of the success of the experiment at the Edison laboratories had not Mr. Edison and almost all of his men been busily occupied in completing a large order from Europe for storage batteries.

First Announcement Premature.

In midsummer of last year there was published a statement that Mr. Westinghouse had invented an air spring apparatus which would take the place of the pneumatic tire. It caused a sensation among automobile manufacturers, partly because all manufacturers have learned that Mr. Westinghouse never lets an announcement of his inventions be made until he is assured of success.

This announcement, however, was prematurely made, somewhat to Mr. Westinghouse's annoyance. In conversation with him in July of last year he said to the writer that he was not the inventor of the air spring. That was the achievement of a clergyman and a mechanic living at Troy, N.Y. They brought the apparatus to him in the hope he could suggest some manner of perfecting it. He discovered the defect in the apparatus and at once recognized the commercial value of the fundamental principle of the apparatus as it had been brought to him in crude form by the inventor.

At that time Mr. Westinghouse was much occupied with other important matters. He said, however, that at the first convenient opportunity he should take this air spring up, work at it, perfect it if possible, and submit it to exhaustive tests, first of all upon his own automobiles.

Causes Exhaustive Investigation.

In order to satisfy himself of the commercial value which an air spring might have if it could be successfully applied to an automobile, Mr. Westinghouse caused an exhaustive investigation to be made of the upkeep of automobiles for a single year in the United States.

This showed that the aggregate upkeep represented a payment in the year 1909-1910 of about $300,000,000, including chauffeurs' wages. One of the largest of the items was the upkeep cost of tires. The figures were well up in the millions.

The reports satisfy Mr. Westinghouse that if an apparatus could be devised which would eliminate the pneumatic tire it could be manufactured at commercial advantage provided the cost of the apparatus were not too great.

During the summer Mr. Westinghouse perfected, as he thought, the air spring, although there were some details, principally respecting the manner of attaching the springs to the axles and to the body of the car, to be worked out. His own autobiles were equipped with the air springs. He drove with his chauffeur over difficult and rough roads many miles. He learned the air spring could be so used as to supplement the pneumatic tire, or, on the other hand, it could be so adjusted as to make necessary only a solid and thin rubber band on the steel tire. His own machine was run without any rubber band upon the steel tire and with perfect ease to himself and to his chauffeur.

Organization of Company.

Having the apparatus in perfect form and having completed the details which would serve to show the best manner of adapting or attaching the apparatus to the axle and the body of the car, the next question was the organization of a company with sufficient capital and with competent skilled labor to manufacture the apparatus and place it upon the market.

In the fall of last year Mr. Westinghouse said to the writer it was his intention not to begin the manufacture of the air spring until late in 1911. He desired to make final and exhaustive tests. He certainly would not enter upon the manufacture of the device unless satisfied of the most minute detail.

There also were certain computations or estimates to be worked out; these were made and they showed to Mr. Westinghouse that the air spring could be manufactured and marketed at so low a cost that the apparatus would pay for itself in a single season. In other words, what it cost would approximately represent the average cost of maintaining tires upon an automobile in a single season.

The apparatus, Mr. Westinghouse further demonstrated, was practically indestructible and was of such simple mechanism as to entail little or no cost for repairs in case it were properly cared for.

Big Plant Will Be Erected.

While the writer was chatting with Mr. Westinghouse in his New York office in June his telephone rang, and while he was receiving the message his manner was such as to show that the communication greatly interested him. He carried on this telephonic conversation for perhaps ten minutes.

As he put the receiver into its place he said that he had just been talking with Pittsburg and had been receiving a report of the final test of the air spring, which had been made under excessively difficult conditions. The report, he said, was absolutely satisfactory. Upon it was to be based plans for the organization of the company which manufactured the device.

Now it is announced that either at Pittsburg or somewhere in New York State a plant for the manufacture of the air springs is to be erected large enough for the convenient employment of something like 5,000 skilled artisans.

The air spring is a simple enough device. It is in effect a double cylinder, the upper cylinder being attached to the chassis frame and the lower cylinder attached to the axle. The cylinders telescope. Mr. Westinghouse's chief part in this invention is a method of utilising oil in the cylinders and valves so that the piston action working in a well of oil can be absolutely certain.

POISONED PRIZE HORSE AT BRANDON

Valuable Hackney Mare and Also Driving Horse Die From Strychnine Poisoning—Two Men Under Arrest Charged With the Poisoning.

Brandon, July 28—The first prize and champion hackney mare of Thomas Chamber's, Brandon, was found dead in her stall at the exhibition grounds this morning. After the dead animal was pulled out of the stable Chambers driving horse was put in and it is also dead, both from strychnine poisoning. Al O'Brien and Sam Codwill, both giving Winnipeg as their homes, are in jail here charged with being implicated in the poisoning but both deny the accusation. The men were employed at booths at the grounds.

It is said the accused with an exhibitor from Carberry, whose horse was in the stall next to Chambers' mare, were into a game Thursday night at the barns. The Carberry man was a heavy loser and the game ended in a fight in which one of the accused was badly beaten up by the Carberry man. The man who was beaten threatened to use a knife and finally swore he would get even.

The supposition is that the poison was intended for the Carberry man's horse, but was put into Chambers' mare's stall by mistake. The police are making a full investigation. The mare poisoned was a fine young animal worth between $400 and $500.

DENIES REPORTS OF RUST.

Deputy Minister of Agriculture of Saskatchewan Says that Continued Wet Weather May Do Damage

Regina, Sask., July 28—To the Western Associated Press representative today, A. F. Mantle, deputy minister of agriculture, denied the report recently attributed to him to the effect that black rust had appeared in Saskatchewan. It was true, Mr. Mantle said, he had said that continuance of wet weather would be favorable to rust but that was all. As a matter of fact no complaints of rust have so far been received by the department, and up to the present time remarkably little damage has been reported from rust, hail, frost or any other cause.

The present fine weather is just what was required and its continuance will ensure an extremely fine crop, ready for harvesting about the average date.

PURIFIED HIS BLOOD

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills Healed Mr. Wilson's Sores

When the sewers of the body—bowels, kidneys and skin ducts—get clogged up, the blood quickly becomes impure and frequently sores break out over the body. The way to heal them, as Mr. Richard Wilson, who lives near London, Ont., found, is to purify the blood. He writes:

"For some time I had been in a low, depressed condition. My appetite left me and I soon began to suffer from indigestion. Quite a number of small sores and blotches formed all over my skin. I tried medicine for the blood and used many kinds of ointments, but without satisfactory results. What was wanted was a thorough cleansing of the blood, and I looked about in vain for some medicine that would accomplish this.

At last Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills were brought to my notice, and they are one of the most wonderful medicines I have ever known. My blood was purified in a very short time, sores healed up, my indigestion vanished. They always have a place in my home and are looked upon as the family remedy."

The whole program of sports was a credit to such a newly settled district and showed much successful effort on the part of the various committees and officials. With such success the Grande Prairie annual sports will soon become a famous event in the province. Among the special features was the getting acquainted. The native pioneers entered into all the sports most enthusiastically, and in many of the events more than held their own. The old timers were much elated when one of their number won over a new comer.

Besides the actual residents of the Prairie visitors were here from Sturgeon Lake, Spirit River, Peace River and Edmonton. A number of land seekers had just arrived and enjoyed the sports in the interval while waiting for the new land agency to open. Each week brings new arrivals via ser Slave Lake routes.

Compulsory Military and Naval Service Has Been Inaugurated..

Sydney, N.S.W., July 27.—The era of compulsory military service in Australia was inaugurated last Saturday with musters in all the training areas. There are many evidences that the public is conscious of the momentous character of the change. One hundred and five thousand boys of from 14 to 18 years of age have been brought under the immediate discipline of a training that requires at least four whole day and 12 half day parades and 24 night drills a year. Next year 30,000 youths of 18 will enter the ranks of the national militia; in each succeeding year similar batches will follow; in seven years the citizen army will number, allowing for wastage, 120,000 trained men.

Saturday saw also the inauguration of Australia's compulsory naval force. The total required enrolment is 3,700. There are two sections of the force, an adult reserve and a cadet reserve, the ages of the latter ranging from 14 to 18 years.

CORRESPONDENCE

A SCHEME OF CIVIC GOVERNMENT

To the Editor of the Bulletin,
Edmonton, Alta.

Dear Sir,—The troubles and tribulations of our civic administration for some months past have given rise to endless difficulty and criticism, eliciting such remarks as "Why doesn't the mayor and council resign?" "The commissioners should retire decently after being fired"; "The whole bunch should quit," etc., etc., quite common on the streets until a few days ago.

The general feeling appears to be that "The times are out of joint" and some one is badly needed to set them right. While I would not assume for a moment that I am competent to do so, at the same time I feel persuaded it is the duty of every thinking citizen of Edmonton to give some thought to the question in the hope of finding the cause of the trouble, and if possible, the remedy.

We are all agreed that our present civic system of government is not working in the best interests of the city as a whole; whether this is due to incompatibility of temperament between the city council and the commissioners, or to the hybrid system we are working under, appears to be a matter of opinion. Those with whom I have discussed the subject appear to be about evenly divided.

We have undertaken greater responsibility in the City of Edmonton than has been assumed by any other city on the whole continent—in the operation and management of every public utility, the successful management of any one of which would call for the best business intelligence of a private corporation. We have attempted this great task under what is supposedly a commission system of government, but what is in reality, a hybrid system—part commission and part council, with the duties of neither body properly defined, this feature in itself being fruitful of endless friction will make it unprofitably workable.

I take it that the operation of any public utility has in view two primary objects; the greatest service to the public with the least cost of production. I submit that while this may be possible, it is not at all probable of expectation under the hampering interference of political or semi-political influences (the word politic is used in its broadest sense).

Experience is the best teacher to verify the soundness of the above statement. Just think of any manufacturing or producing industry you are familiar with operated under political or semi-political management and measure the results obtained with that of a similar industry operated under private or corporate management. If this be correct, then we cannot look for the highest measure of success under our present system. We have exceeded even the extreme optimism of many large industries, industries which will naturally increase in importance and difficulty of management with the rapid growth of the city. In addition, we have introduced other innovations not common to most cities in the the manner of taxation, form of government, etc.

As we have attempted the obligations of a mammoth industrial institution, then why not go one step further and try the management of the city in its various details on the lines followed by a private corporation and adopt an out and out commission system of government?

Just at this time when the agreement for the amalgamation of the twin cities is about completed would appear to me to be an opportune time to give such a change the closest study and consideration. While I do not pose as an authority, I would suggest the outline of such a change that I think would furnish the remedy we are looking for.

Instead of our hybrid system of a council and two commissioners, I would suggest a mayor and council of six commissioners, the mayor to be elected by the popular vote of the people for one or more years as would be deemed expedient, the commissioners to receive their appointment for special fitness for the office. I would make each commissioner qualify in practical and technical knowledge for his particular duties, in average business ability and probity of character. The legislative body would be composed of the mayor and the six commissioners who would deal with all legislative matters of the city under similar procedure of the present council. I submit that such a body would be capable of equal, if not superior intelligence and reliability in the consideration of any legislative act affecting the city's interests with that of any council chosen by popular vote of the people at large. In the discharge of their executive duties the political features being eliminated, the best unbiased judgment would naturally be expected.

The commissioners for their executive duties could be selected for the following departments:

(a) Engineering, streets and sewers.
(b) Operation and maintenance of power plant.
(c) Street railway.
(d) Electric light and telephones.
(e) Finance.
(f) Legal.

Nothing would prevent the selection of the commissioners from our own citizens, providing they measured up to the required standard.

I have heard it stated that the only qualifications necessary for a commissioner is a recognition as a good business man. That may be correct to some extent, but it is not the only qualification. A man may be classed as a good business man, but owing to his education along one particular line of business activity, he might lack the practical knowledge to provide him with the basic value to measure up the results obtained from some other line of action. In other words, put a first class business man, who may be a dry goods merchant, hardware merchant, or insurance agent, in charge of any one of the city's utilities, without some previous technical and practical training in that department—by what measure is he to guage the value of results produced, or by what method could he outline a plan for the betterment of the institution?

I would not suggest that the commissioners should confine their efforts to office functions only, provide entertaining subject matter for publication or pleasantly entertain a continuous stream of public callers. With certain fixed hours for executive office work and a fixed time for legislative duties in the legislative chamber, their proper sphere would be the personal supervision of the work under their control—in other words the actual working heads in their various departments.

It is unnecessary here to go into details of remuneration to be paid the commissioners, it might be found necessary to make one the active head and fix their salaries to meet their individual responsibilities. Should the aggregate amount of salary paid be $50,000 or even $60,000 per annum, it would be little in excess of that paid to the single executive head of many of our big industrial institutions. I submit that for the maximum sum, we could get a body of men measuring up in every way with the required standard, and such a sum is small when compared with the cost to the city of many of the mistakes due to previous inefficient management.

We now come to probably the most important feature of such a change in procedure: The responsibility of the commissioners—As the people are supreme, the people must hold the fate of the commissioners in their hands, and as this is not practical directly, it can be accomplished indirectly by the voice of the people through a board of control. I think a board of three members would be ample to fulfil all the functions required of this body. Personnel of the board of control—1st, the mayor, who represents the popular voice of the people; 2nd, the elected choice of the Edmonton Board of Trade, non membership in the Board of Trade not necessarily a disqualification; 3rd an appointee of the Federal Government, preferably a resident member of the Supreme Court Bench.

In this board we would have one member, the popular choice of the whole people, one member the elected choice of our most intelligent business organization and the third member, by virtue of his position, would be perfectly impartial.

With the board of control would be left the responsibility of the commissioners 'appointment and their discharge under certain defined regulations embracing the recall system if deemed advisable.

In this letter I can no more than barely outline the features of such an important change, and while admitting the crudeness of the presentation, I feel satisfied that such a system if properly worked out in detail would solve our difficulty and place our civic management on a sound business basis.

It would probably be suggested that under such a system there would be no adequate check on the board of commissioners to prevent the jeopardizing of the city's interests for personal gain, probably no more than there is on the directorate of the Canadian Pacific Railway, or the executive of any other large corporation. Our experience has taught that men of such calibre very rarely combine for the object of boodling.

In conclusion, while thanking you for giving the foregoing suggestions publicity, it is with the hope that the subject will raise sufficient interest among our thinking men to justify some discussion with the object of supplying a remedy for our present civic troubles.

SAY MINERS WANT TO ACCEPT REPORT

It Is Reported That Men Wish to Come Back on the Findings of Chairman Gordon—Officials Deny the Correctness of This Report.

Fernie, B.C., July 28—The executive board of district eighteen assembled here today and is now in session, but nothing has been given out for publication. All the members except Lees, of Bankhead, are in attendance and international board members, Garner, Purcell and J. Morgan are in town.

Many rumors are afloat to the effect that the miners want to accept the labor department's report and to return to work under the rates as suggested by Chairman Gordon's findings, but the members of the executive and other members of the organization deny such statements.

There are many outsiders, however, who think that if a vote were taken that the result would be in favor of the acceptance of the board's findings as a basis of a new agreement. It may be known this afternoon just what attitude the executive will take in the matter.

THREE YEARS FOR BURGLARY.

Louis Dupois is Sentenced for Breaking Into a Bakery Shop at Keewatin.

Kenora, Ont., July 28—A sentence of three years in Kingston Penitentiary was the punishment allotted to Louis Dupois, one of the perpetrators of the burglary at Stewart's bakery in Keewatin early this morning.

Dupois, who is 22 years, was born in France and claims to have come to Canada quite recently from Rhode Island state to Calgary, where he worked as farm laborer for a short time before coming east. He took his sentence quite coolly. He gave the name of his companion in crime as Clement Duford, and every effort is being made to bring him to bay.

OPERATORS ACCEPT MAJORITY REPORT

Telegram Received from Lewis Stockett President of the Western Coal Operators Association by the Minister of Labor at Ottawa.

Ottawa, July 28—The Minister of Labor has received a telegram from Lewis Stockett, president of the Western Coal Operators' Association in which the operators announce their acceptance of the majority report of the board of conciliation and investigation of which Rev. C. W. Gordon was president. The telegram is as follows:

"We feel that the majority report of the board is anything but a fair proposition, taking into account the financial standing of a large number of companies involved and also taking into consideration the large financial interests at stake. We also feel that the acceptance of the same will work a hardship on large capital involved with which may take years to overcome. In this connection we might refer in passing to the fact that the report states that one of the facts disclosed by the investigation of the board was that probably two-thirds of the mines in the association have operated during the past two years at a loss. We realize however that the public have to a very large extent been considered and while if we considered only the interests of the companies involved we would be forced to decline to accept the findings of the board, we feel that rather than precipitate a coal famine we should accept same. In doing so, we wish it to be understood and we are signifying our willingness to negotiate an agreement with the United Mine Workers of America, along the general lines suggested by the board in its majority report. This we understand to mean an absolute open shop with a non-discriminating clause to be conceded to the operators, that we retain absolute management of the mines and control all employes connected with the management and the safety of the same. We also understand that the increase in the days wages is to be based on the existing scale of days wages as provided in the last agreement between the United Mine Workers of America district No. 15 and the Western Coal Operators' Association.

Beyond this we absolutely refuse to go.

To Get Pennsylvania Coal.

Calgary, July 28—A local paper is authority for the statement that the C.P.R. has reduced the freight rate on coal from Port Arthur to Winnipeg by two dollars a ton which will enable the west to get a supply from the Pennsylvania mines.

TAILORING—Alberta business that requires $1000 cash to give possession. Sales run about $4500 yearly, with possibilities of large increase if a hustler. No opposition and no real estate to buy. LOCATORS, WINNIPEG.

HOTEL—$19,000 asked with $3,000 cash and some land can be turned in on the deal. Receipts will average $50 daily and there is easily a profit of $4,000 yearly over all expenses so that you get your money back the first year. Substantial building, well situated in this growing Saskatchewan town 350 population where you have no opposition. Local option has been badly defeated here, there are 4 elevators, good water and bear in mind that two partners have been living from this business since they started. Act quickly if interested. LOCATORS, WINNIPEG.

LIQUORS & CIGARS—B. C. business without opposition doing a turnover of $400 monthly without touching the Hotel trade. There is a clear profit here of $2000 yearly. The total purchase of stock, license, building and lot will run about $4000 and any reasonable cash payment will be considered. Businesses of this kind are recognized as moneymakers and there is plenty of room here for developing the business. LOCATORS, WINNIPEG.

DRUGS & STATIONERY — $800 cash handles the purchase of this little Saskatchewan business clearing present owner $1500, but being a branch house cannot depend on managers. The rent is only $25 monthly on a three years lease and the total purchase will run about $1200. Easy monthly payments will be arranged on the balance and you are getting a well established business that will pay for itself and give you your money back the first year. LOCATORS, WINNIPEG.

BARBER & BATHS—Alberta business in town of 1000 population and clearing over all expenses $1500 yearly. You can rent the property at $25 monthly or buy on very easy terms, and the stock and fixtures will run about $700. $500 cash will put you in possession here. The equipment includes 2 chairs, phonograph, and records, gasoline lighting, 2 baths and all necessary equipment. Everything practically new and a well established business. LOCATORS, WINNIPEG.

GENERAL STORE—G.T.P. divisional point serving a large stretch of well settled country. Resident population 800 and growing. Stock and fixtures will run about $15,000 and a strictly cash business of close to $35,000 yearly is controlled. The rent is $100 monthly for a substantial two-storey building with plate glass front and a warehouse and you can get a lease for as long as desired. This is mighty good buying and you can get in on a cash payment of $5000. Act quickly. LOCATORS, WINNIPEG.

Note the difference in these two loaves of bread!

No. 1 was made from SEAL OF ALBERTA—the Faultless Flour—the flour that makes perfect bread.

There is a reason why it is better.

You have seen a boy chew wheat to make "gum" out of it. That "gum" as he calls it, is the gluten of the wheat. On the quality of the gluten the bread depends. That "quality" in the gluten is determined by soil and moisture and locality and other things. And we select the best wheat from the best locality—clean it perfectly—wash it—mill it in a mill that is perfection itself—then age it until it is just right, in order to give you in perfect condition SEAL OF ALBERTA, the Faultless Flour.

Ask your grocer about it.

Read next week's announcement.

WORK HORSE PARADE.

At a meeting last night of the exhibitors in the work horse parade, T. G. Pearce, secretary of the Humane Society for Alberta, offered on behalf of the society a gold medal to be awarded to the teamster exhibiting and owning a team which gives evidence of the best care and most docile in harness, the award to be made irrespective of age, color or blemishes. On motion of Frank Miller, the secretary was instructed to thank the Humane Society for their hearty co-operation in the arrangements for the parade and particularly for the medal donated.

Considerable discussion was spent on the question whether any discrimination should be shown matched teams in the judging or whether such a factor should be ignored. Those present were about evenly divided so it was left to the discretion of the committee who have the parade in charge.

A number of new entries were reported by the secretary: Strathcona Cartage Co., four teams; Wm. Duncan, three teams and a single; Fitzgerald, two four-horse teams; Gorman, Clancy & Grindley three teams and a single; City Transfer Co., nine teams.

In regard to the stable competition the judging will be based on not only an inspection of the stables but on their sanitary condition, the manner of feeding the horses and the methods for caring after their welfare generally.

The meeting which was held at the offices of the Edmonton exhibition was well attended, a number of Strathcona representatives being present. A. B. Campbell, president of the Exhibition Association, was in the chair.

A WILD WEST SHOW.

A miniature wild west circus was in progress for about two hours yesterday afternoon at the yards of A. Stimmel on Queen's avenue, when Wm. Card of the Orpheum Theatre was having a number of roughriding scenes enacted for the patrons of his theatre. Auctioneer Stimmel had been for some time making a collection of bad horses on which his riders might display their horsemanship for the benefit of the moving picture camera, but not until yesterday have conditions been right for such an exhibition. The performance was pulled of in the sales yard on Queen's avenue, the buildings around which were lined with crowds of spectators, the majority of them not venturing into the corral.

One by one the ponies were led out blanketed and saddled, the prospective rider using the first opportunity of climbing into the saddle. Ordinary bucking, however picturesque, had no effect on these riders and the bronchos knew it. One of them reared and came back on his rider, pinning him to the ground in a nasty manner. He held his position with admirable dexterity and when man and horse rose, the rider was on top uninjured. Another of the refractory ones pitched into a buggy demolishing one of the wheels and the rear of the vehicle The unfortunate owner was at once recouped by the delighted crowd, a collection being made to cover the injuries.

At the conclusion, Estelle Pate and little Cecil rode before the camera on their pinto ponies, while the horse ridden by Estelle under the direction of Mr. Frank Slade, performing several tricks.

John Berry and Tom Cowan, the riders, were each given a present by Manager Card of the Orpheum for their share in the entertainment. Mr. Card states that the pictures will be shown in the near future.

The pictures were developed last night and are reported to be excellent They will be shown at the Orpheum for the first four days of next week.

"Judging from what I have heard," said Mr. Marshall to the Bulletin, "Saskatchewan is almost solid for trade expansion and no one opposes the reciprocity agreement."

The minister of agriculture was very favorably impressed with the good crops along the G.T.P. line. He leaves tonight for Regina to attend the big fair which opens there next week.
